Gov. Sure Of Mutual Solution

Seek Alternative To Meet Protests

BY JEAN F. DOLAN
Freeman Staff Writer

"Encouraging" word has been received from Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller concerning redesign of objectionable sections of the proposed arterial through the Town of Ulster.

January Hearing Held

At a public hearing Jan. 17, in the State Armory here some 400 persons were on hand to voice strenuous objections to the Kingston Arterial Route through the Town of Ulster. State plans call for a "deadending" of Route 9W at the Caldor-Waldbaum shopping area which would isolate existing businesses and landlock areas of potential development.

In a letter to Edward J. Devine, chairman of the Town of Ulster Planning Board, the Governor said that since the public hearing, the State Department of Public Works "has been attempting to develop a plan to meet the objections brought forth at that time."

Any new alternative hopefully would be discussed with the planning board while proposals are still in the formative state, the governor noted. "I am sure that a mutually acceptable solution can be devised," he concluded.

Had Asked Delay

Devine had appealed to the governor in a recent telegram, requesting delay on design of the arterial until a suitable plan was devised.

A traffic survey was recently conducted in the Town of Ulster and results are being studied by Manuel S. Emanuel, town planning board constultant and Warren Travers, consulting engineer. They hope to make recommendations to the state within the next two to three weeks.

Peak Hour Check

Survey stations were set up at Caldor from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. Motorists were stopped during these peak hours and quizzed as to destination. Traffic was clocked for two days to establish volume of travel and north-south patterns.

At the hearing conducted by the State Department of Public Works, Albany Avenue Extension businessmen called for carrying out of state "promises" to widen and install drainage along the existing route prior to the construction of the arterial route through the area.

Cite Possible Tax Loss

Possible tax loss due to landlocking of potential development lands was cited also.

Little opposition to the Town of Esopus and City of Kingston sections of the proposed route was noted at the hearing.

Governor's Letter

The Governor's letter to Devine is as follows:

"Thank you for your telegram concerning the Kingston arterial in the Town of Ulster.

"Superintendent of Public Works J. Burch McMorran reports that since the public hearing held in Kingston on January 17, 1967, the Department has been attempting to develop a plan to meet the objections brought forth at that time. Superintendent McMorran notes that he is hopeful that any new alternative may be discussed with the Planning Board while the proposals are still in the formative state.

"Your interest in this important highway facility is fully appreciated, and I am sure that a mutually acceptable solution can be devised."

Sincerely,
NELSON A. ROCKEFELLER

Hanoi Charges 'Savage Raids'

Aerial Resumption Marks Pounding Of Rail Lines; Silence Shore Guns

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — American fighter - bombers pounded railroad lines and other supply routes in North Vietnam today and U.S. Navy ships attacked shipping along the North Vietnamese coast as U.S. forces resumed war operations north of the demilitarized zone.

Only Light Contact

In South Vietnam, allied ground units reported only light contact with the enemy, but U.S. Air Force and Marine pilots flew a record 535 sorties in support of the sweeping infantrymen Monday.

U.S. spokesmen also announced that seven men of the U.S. 1st Cavalry Airmobile Division were killed and four were wounded Monday night when five rounds of their own artillery landed among them.

Bomb Goes Astray

The spokesmen also announced that one man of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division was killed Sunday and 14 were wounded when a U.S. plane's bomb went astray during an operation. However, a claymore mine went off in the same area just before the bomb explosion, and the spokesmen said it might have caused some of the casualties.

The first American air strike against the Communist north since the lunar new year truce began last Wednesday morning was made at 1.07 a.m. by two Air Force F4C Phantoms. They attacked the Vinh Tuy highway bridge seven miles south of Dong Hoi, the U.S. Command said.

Weather Limits Raids

Navy A6 Intruders pounded rail facilities in half a dozen areas in the North Vietnamese panhandle.

Poor weather conditions limited the air raids to the panhandle area and hampered damage assessment estimates. The Air Force announced its pilots flew 12 missions — about 36 planes — in the first five hours after the bombing pause ended.

A U.S. spokesman said there "definitely were further" strikes throughout the day.

U.S. military authorities announced today that before the bombing pause ended, a Navy RA5C Vigilante reconnaissance plane was shot down south of Haiphong Sunday. They said the two pilots managed to get the plane over the Gulf of Tonkin and bailed out, and an Air Force amphibian and a Navy helicopter flew through small-arms fire from nearby junks to rescue the men a half mile off shore.

Mum on Details

It was the second reconnaissance plane downed in the north during the bombing pause and the 473rd American plane reported lost in North Vietnam.

North Vietnam's Vietnam News Agency, announcing the resumption of U.S. air strikes, claimed that the Americans bombed and strafed "many populated areas and economic establishments" in the provinces of Thanh Hoa, Ninh Binh and Nam Ha. It said the town of Phu Ly, in Nam Ha Province, was "savagely raided" but gave no details.

The first Navy action off North Vietnam after the six-day cessation also came before dawn today when the destroyer Cunningham reported it set three cargo craft afire 18 miles north of Dong Hoi.

The Navy said North Vietnamese shore batteries on islands near the city of Vinh opened fire later in the day on the destroyer Strauss. The destroyer suffered no damage, fired back and the batteries ceased fire, the Navy reported.

Trigger Four Explosions

In addition to the record number of fighter-bomber strikes in South Vietnam Monday, Air Force B52s flew in from Guam for three strikes Monday night and today against suspected enemy positions in the south.

Monday night they pounded a target 16 miles southwest of Da Nang and another one about 310 miles north of Saigon. This morning they struck an enemy base camp 12 miles south of Hue.

The Air Force, announcing its pilots flew a record 378 sorties in the south, said bombs triggered four large secondary explosions.

Marine pilots flew an additional 157 sorties, U.S. spokesmen said.

U.S. authorities also announced that units of the 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade have killed 25 guerrillas and rounded up 24 suspects since opening Operation Gatling 2 Feb. 5 about 98 miles northeast of Saigon.

Indicate Sweeping Purge Of Top Peking Army Men

TOKYO (AP) — Wall posters in Peking indicated today that a sweeping purge of Red China's leading military men is under way in Mao Tse-tung's drive to weed out supporters of President Liu Shao-chi. They also reported a big step up the power ladder by Mao's wife.

A correspondent of the Japanese newspaper Sankei Shimbun said 25 top military men have come under fire as followers of the bourgeois, reactionary line.

Wall posters put up by the postal and telegraph workers said that Mao's aggressive third wife, Chiang Ching, has been named chairman of a new committee formed to press Mao's purge in central party and government organizations.

Her new importance was underlined by the fact that Premier Chou En-lai, who might have been expected to head such a committee, has been named to serve on it as Mrs. Mao's adviser.

Another wall poster reported a clash between Soviet and Red Chinese troops on an unspecified date on the Manchurian border. The report said a Soviet battalion opened fire on a Chinese army company and was repulsed. It said Soviet soldiers were captured but later released.

If true, this would be the first known exchange of shots between the two Communist powers since the Maoist purge began last August. Mao recently was reported to have ordered an alert all along China's border with the Soviet Union.

Among the military leaders included in the wholesale indictment were Vice Defense Minister Hsiao Ching-kuang, air force commander Wu Fan-hsien, navy deputy commander Li Tso-peng, Ulanfu, commander of the Inner Mongolian military district, and Wang En-mao, commander of the Sinkiang military district.

Veteran Marshals Ho Lung and Lo Jui-ching were criticized again as enemies of Mao. Ho has been vice chairman of the Communist party Military Commission. Lo was fired from his post as chief of the army general staff.

Wang En-mao is reported to have dug in in Sinkiang for prolonged resistance to Mao. Ulanfu is said to have been behind opposition to Mao in Inner Mongolia last month.

The wall posters also accused

Describe Viet Peace Prospects at Low Ebb

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vietnam peace prospects appeared at their lowest point in two months today as U. S. bombing of North Vietnam resumed and weeks of optimistic speculation ended.

U. S. officials said peace efforts had receded to their pre-Christmas position.

President Johnson, in announcing the resumption of bombing late Monday, said he had hoped the cease-fire during the lunar new year "might lead to some abatement of hostilities and to move toward peace."

Used Pause

But he said the North Vietnamese had used the pause "for major re-supply efforts of their troops in South Vietnam."

Johnson apparently referred to Sunday night's meeting in London between Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin and British Prime Minister Harold Wilson when he said: "Despite our efforts and those of third parties, no other response has yet come from Hanoi."

Johnson earlier had indicated determination to resume the air war in the absence of any North Vietnamese easing of military activity.

But the North Vietnamese insisted on a halt in U. S. bombing and withdrawal of troops before peace talks could get started.

North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh made this clear in a reply to Pope Paul's appeal for an early settlement of the conflict.

Same Old Line

Ho wrote, "The U. S. imperialists must put an end to their aggression in Vietnam, end unconditionally and definitely the bombing and all other acts of war against the Democratic Republic of Vietnam, withdraw from South Vietnam all American and satellite troops, recognize the South Vietnam National Front for Liberation (Viet Cong) and let the Vietnamese people settle themselves their own affairs."

That appeared a re-statement of conditions previously rejected by the United States.

Peace hopes began building up about two months ago when North Vietnamese officials dropped hints negotiations "could" start if the U. S. bombing was premanently halted.

There have been three truce intervals since December and diplomats had been particularly hopeful that the latest might bring a breakthrough in the quest for a peace formula.

Door Still Open

In his White House statement, Johnson said, "The door to peace is and will remain open and we are prepared at any time to go more than halfway to meet any equitable overture from the other side."

Officials reiterated this meant North Vietnam must scale down its military operations if U. S. bombing of the north is to be halted.

It appeared logical, sources said, that U. S. bombing attacks would be intensified in the next few days or weeks in an effort to eliminate advantages Viet Cong and North Vietnamese fighting units may have gained during the 138-hour bombing lull.

During the past week, Secretary of State Dean Rusk emphasized the United States would not halt the bombing of North Vietnam without some reciprocal move by the Communists.

Report Powell's Wife to Testify Before Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adam Clayton Powell's wife has agreed to testify Thursday before the select House committee investigating Powell's qualifications to be seated, a committee spokesman says.

Reversal of Form

If she appears, it would be a reversal of Y. Marjorie Flores Powell's refusal to appear before another committee which probed her husband's activities late last year and ordered her fired from a $20,500 job on Powell's committee.

The current committee had hoped to conclude public hearings today but scheduled another session Thursday to accommodate Powell's estranged wife.

William A. Georghegan, the committee's counsel, said Monday night he had been promised by Mrs. Powell's attorney that she would fly to Washington from her home in San Juan, P.R., Wednesday and testify Thursday.

The committee had little hope that Powell or two women who were members of his staff when he was a House committee chairman would appear at today's session.

Powell, who faces the possible loss of his House seat, refused last week to answer questions put to him by the committee. The queries were about his New York court troubles and alleged misuse of government travel funds.

Letter Is Bared

Monday the committee made public a letter to the Harlem Democrat in which it stated its belief that it has the power to recommend seating, expelling or otherwise punishing him.

Powell also was told he would be permitted to make a statement to the committee if he came, regardless of whether he submitted to questioning. Powell criticized the committee last week for refusing to let him make a statement when he refused to answer its questions.

He contended the committee is entitled to question only whether he meets age, citizenship and inhabitancy requirements.

While Powell's appearance was left a voluntary matter, the three women all were subpoenaed to appear. The committee reported it was unsuccessful in trying to serve a subpoena on Emma Swann, a former receptionist in his office.

A subpoena was served on Corrine Huff, 25, one-time beauty contest winner who is Powell's secretary and traveling companion. She was served on the Bahaman isle of Bimini. Powell's fishing retreat, but there was no indication she plans to come.

Report Another Incendiary Fire In UR Section

With well over 50 fires of incendiary origin already reported in Kingston's urban renewal area in little more than a year, Kingston Fire Department fought yet another conflagration of this breed early today.

There was no need for investigators to seek the cause of the blaze that burned flooring and floor timbers at the three-story, brick, vacant building at 120 Broadway.

Intentionally set

The fire was no accident; had been intentionally lit in the flooring of a rear room on the first floor. The building itself is a former residential dwelling now owned by the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency.

Dispatchers at fire headquarters today said they received a telephone call at 7:56 a. m. reporting that smoke was coming from the building which is on Broadway near Pierpont Street.

Flames in the flooring were extinguished through use of a pressurized water extinguisher and a one-and-one-half inch gravity line.

Remove Flooring

Damage to flooring and floor timbers made it necessary to remove a section of the flooring in order to fully extinguish the blaze.

Under command of Deputy Glyn Southand, Engines 1 and 3 and Truck 1 of the Kingston Fire Department responded. Firemen returned from the blaze at 9 a. m.; notified the Kingston Police Department of the suspicious nature of the fire.

Blaze Destroys Rosendale House, Loss Is $10,000

Rosendale firemen were called out at 2 a. m. today for a fire on Campbell Street, Rosendale, where a nine-room house owned by the John Dellay Realty Company was on fire.

Cause Unknown

The house located at 5 Campbell Street, was compltely destroyed. No other buildings in the area were threatened. How the fire started is not known as it was unoccupied at the time. The loss was placed at $10,000 by John Dellay.

While the house was a year-round place, it was unoccupied in the winter. It had been sold under contract to a Charles Swenson of New York and had been closed since the fall. Dellay said the electricity had been turned off and how the fire originated remains unknown. The house and contents was a total loss.

Report Recent Entry

Several weeks ago the sheriff's department was notified that the premises had been broken into and considerable damage done to the furnishings.

It was not until 5:03 a. m. today that the firemen secured. Chief Robert Markle of the Rosendale Department was in charge.

Sees Jakarta Move Coming

JAKARTA (AP) — One of army strongman Gen. Suharto's top deputies indicated today that a showdown in the struggle to force President Sukarno to retire may be imminent.

Maj. Gen. Alamsjah said an answer to new military proposals to end the power struggle may be forthcoming tonight.

Waiting for Answers

"There will be no more missions, no more talks," he declared. "The decision has been taken. We are just waiting for the answer."

Military leaders and Cabinet ministers have repeatedly urged Sukarno in recent weeks to step down before he is dragged down. The president has shown no sign of complying and gave every indication at a palace reception today that he would remain in Jakarta to continue his fight to hold the presidency.

Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, the chairman of Congress, in a broadcast statement Monday night accused the president of being a Communist sympathizer and knowing in advance of the attempted Red coup Oct. 1, 1965.

Nasution's statement, read over Radio Jakarta, was in answer to a challenge from Sukarno to the general to explain his own actions at the time of the attempted coup. Nasution was then defense and security minister.

The general charged that shortly before the coup, Communist party Chairman D.N. Aidit attempted to swing army Brig. Gen. R.H. Sugandhi over to the Communist side by telling him of the plans.

"All this is known by Sukarno," Nasution quoted Aidit as saying. Aidit was killed during the bloody suppression of Communists after the coup.

Sugandhi then informed Sukarno of the plot. Nasution continued, and he said Sukarno replied: "Don't follow this Communist phobia. Don't you know the generals are hopeless?"

Nasution also charged that Sukarno chose to go to the Communist headquarters on the day of the revolt rather than to the army.

Climbed to Safety

Six top army generals were slain by Communist assassination squads on the morning of the coup attempt. Nasution escaped by climbing over the wall behind his house.

Nasution's statement was one of the strongest attacks against the president by a top government official since the campaign opened to force him out of power.

The accusations are expected to be followed up when Congress meets early next month to conduct a full investigation of Sukarno's connection with the coup attempt. Sukarno has persistently refused to give an account or an explanation of his actions.

Indonesia's Parliament, which ranks below the Congress, has adopted a resolution asking Congress to dismiss Sukarno from the presidency. Informed sources said Monday Sukarno may leave the country before Congress meets, but the president told newsmen today he would remain in Jakarta despite the moves to force him out of office.

GOP Reaction Cool to Mild Anger

Duryea's Prospects Seen Doubtful for School Aid Boost

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A move by the Assembly's top Republican to increase school aid by about $60 million met a GOP reception today ranging from a cold shoulder in the Senate to mild anger in Gov. Rockefeller's camp.

Prospects appeared doubtful for Minority Leader Perry B Duryea's plan, which would give school districts an aid boost of nearly five per cent.

Duryea, a seven-year veteran of the Assembly and minority leader since last year, stirred comment at the Capitol Monday when he unveiled his proposal without discussing it with Rockefeller. The governor had said that no extra aid to schools should be provided this year, beyond the $117 million mandated by the existing state - aid formula.

Rockefeller promptly issued a contention that the administration had underestimated revenues in projecting a $4.7 billion state budget.

The governor, said to be disturbed by Duryea's indirect criticism of his fiscal planning, declared in his statement:

"The budget estimates are solid estimates. Based on previous experience these estimates surely will hold up."

Duryea's action highlighted events at the Capitol in a day marked by these other developments:

"Legislative leaders continued behind-the scenes maneuvering on the nomination of a candidate for the State Board of Regents. GOP legislators have challenged the eligibility of the Democratic choice, Stephen K. Bailey, a Syracuse University dean, because of a state law that prohibits university officials from serving simultaneously as a regent. They awaited a formal opinion from Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz.

—Two Roman Catholic assemblymen clashed on the Assembly floor with Albert H. Blumenthal, D-Manhattan, chief advocate of abortion - law reform, over the controversial issue. The exchange came after Blumenthal had responded to a pastoral letter in which New York State's Roman Catholic bishops urged defeat of the bill. Senate reacted coolly to Duryea's school - aid plan. Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges said:

"I haven't closed the door completely to an aid increase, but, as I've said before, my disposition is to hold the line this year."

Shows Little Interest

Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia, the Legislature's ranking Democrat, showed little interest in the idea. "I don't see how he's going to get that kind of money out of the budget," the speaker said.

Rockefeller said in his budget message that his program proposed no changes in the school-aid formula because of substan-

Patterns - Progress Head Will Speak

Guest speaker for the annual dinner meeting of the Ulster County Community Chest Tuesday, Feb. 28, will be C. David Loeks, president and chief executive officer of the Mid-Hudson Pattern for Progress, Inc.

Loeks will speak on Planning in An Open Society during the event at the Gov. Clinton Hotel.

The dinner program also will note special recognition of business firms and employe groups for their contribution in the recent fund campaign.

Will Elect Officers

Outgoing officers also will report and new board members and officers will be nominated and elected.

Special recognnition will be bestowed upon the Uniform Firemen's Association and the Kiwanis Club for their "outdoing" all other organization in the Dec. 3 Ulster County Radio-Videothon.

This annual meeting, a requirement of the Chest constitution is a highlight of the year's activities as the past year is reviewed, new leadership is established and appropriate recognition is expressed to all for tremendous accomplishments this past year.

The 13 member agencies are Boys' Club, Boy Scouts, Cerebral Palsy, Gateway Industries, Girl Scouts, Jewish Center, Mental Health, Red Cross, Retarded Children, Salvation Army, YMCA, YWCA and USO, who provide services in the city of Kingston and the towns of Esopus, Hurley, Kingston, Marbletown, New Paltz, Rosendale, Saugerties and Ulster.

Dr. W. Wendell Hoover, Chest board member and chairman of the program committee, will act as master of ceremonies.

He emphasized the importance of the guest speaker's topic as the Chest proceeds into the special planning committee to follow up on the concepts proposed by the Citizens Survey Committee of Ulster County for

Delmar Man Named To Mental Hygiene

Lawrence B. McArthur of Delmar, an assistant director with the Department of Civil Service, has been named assistant commissioner for manpower of the Department of Mental Hygiene.

In announcing the appointment today, Dr. Alan D. Miller, Commissioner, said McArthur will head the Bureau of Manpower established under Dr. Hugh G. Lafave associate commissioner for manpower and training. McArthur, who has been assistant director of classification and compensation for the Department of Civil Service since 1952, will be in charge of recruitment, labor relations, employee relations, classification and compensation, staff utilization and volunteer services for the Department of Mental Hygiene.

"We believe Mr. McArthur's appointment will greatly strengthen our efforts to recruit and retain vitally needed personnel," Dr. Miller said.

"As a member of the classification and compensation division of Civil Service since 1939, McArthur comes to us with an invaluable knowledge of departmental organization budgeting and manpower. I am extremely grateful to J. Earl Kelly, director of classification and compensation, for his recognition of the urgency of the health personnel shortage and his personal contribution to an attempted solution in relinquishing the services of a key official of such standing."

HINTS FROM Heloise

When a contour sheet becomes old and worn-out in the middle, I never throw away the good ends.

Since this part of the material is nice and strong, I cut off the lovely contoured ends and stitch them to my blankets and quilts. I have my own contoured magic blankets all for free.

This is especially good if the quilt is not long enough for tucking at the bottom of a bed.

Dear Heloise:

We do not have enough closet space (especially during the past holiday season) for guests to hang their coats.

I keep a clean, plastic tablecloth on a shelf in the bedroom and when we are expecting visitors, I spread the cloth on the bed.

This not only keeps the coats from getting lint on them from the bedspread, but it also keeps the spread from becoming soiled, especially if the coats should be damp from rain, etc.

Dear Budgeteer:

Buy a pound of washing soda at your grocery store and dump the whole box down your drain.

Let this set a minute of so.

Then heat two or three gallons of water until it boils and pour it down the drain. This will usually help a sluggish drain pipe.

And, if that doesn't work, there are commercial products on the market. If they don't work . . . woe is me! I guess you'll have to call a plumber. . .

Heads Speaker List At Publishers Parley

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — J. Montgomery Curtis, executive director of the American Press Institute, headed the list of speakers at the opening session today of the State Publishers Association.

Other speakers on the agenda of the annual two-day affair include Gov. Rockefeller, William L. Ryan, Associated Press foreign news specialist, and Prof. Edmund Arnold of the Syracuse University School of Journalism.

The publishers' meeting followed the annual winter meeting Monday of the Associated Dailies of New York, a group of non-metropolitan area newspapers.

Pleads on Tax Charge

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Neil J. Fuller of Sackets Harbor, near Watertown pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of failing to file a 1961 income tax return on gross income of $73,774.

In another case before Port, three Syracuse residents were sentenced to terms in federal prison in the theft of $5,030 in checks from the Onondaga County Savings Bank.

Cleveland Canty and David Branch were sentenced to two years, and Willie Wilson received a one-year sentence.

Canty was accused of reaching across the counter of the bank and grabbing the checks from a teller's cage. Branch was charged with helping Candy remove the bank stamp from the previously cancelled checks. Wilson was charged with cashing one of the checks.

Olive Board Has Meeting; Slates District Parley

A number of matters were discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the Town of Olive Board held Feb. 8 with all members present.

Payment of General and Highway funds of $19,795.28 and $337.37 respectively was approved.

A resolution authorizing Supervisor Lester Davis to negotiate a capital note in the amount of $20,000, for a two year period, to be applied toward debt incurred by the recent purchase of a new Oskosh truck, was made by Justice Frank Carle, seconded by Justice Bradford Kelder and unanimously accepted.

Bonds for town officials held over from Jan. 10 meeting were approved.

A questionaire formulated by Commissioner Herbert Wells and Justice Frank Carle pertaining to additional swimming and recreational facilities for the convenience of townspeople was presented. It was agreed upon to make a survey by mail in the near future.

Superintendent Marcel Maier requested authority to purchase three additional mobile radio units for installation on town equipment. Permission was granted.

Set Meeting Feb. 21

Supervisor Lester Davis announced a special meeting to be held Feb. 21, at 8 p. m. for the purpose of creating two additional election districts in the town. Board members and all committeemen are requested to attend. County board of elections representative and Attorney Lynch will be present.

A communication was received from Allan Krum, foreman, Department of WSGE, New York City was received, requesting additional hours of entry to town dump to alleviate refuse being dropped along city highway properties. Board tabled for further study. Krum to be so advised in writing by Town Clerk Crawford.

A verbal request made by Mrs. Douglas Trowbridge of Olivebridge, chairman, March of Dimes Crusade, of Supervisor Davis to announce and inform the townspeople that the returns for this vital cause are lagging behind the normal average receipts.

All townspeople were urged to respond generously to this worthy campaign, by forwarding their contributions to the chairman.

Stop Sidewalk Sale

It gets harder and harder to make a living every day—especially if that living is something of a throwback to the good old days when traveling salesmen plied their trade across the length and breadth of the land. Kingston Police Department received a complaint this week that a man was apparently trying to sell costume jewelry on a city street without benefit of a license. Hurrying over to Harding Avenue, they found Timothy A. Duffy, of PO Box 54, Eddyville, exhibiting the latest adornments for milady's neck arm and ears to interested passersby. The freelance enterprise ended when officers told Duffy not to sell his costume jewery in the city until he secured a license from the City Clerk's Office.

May Apply Now for Next StepFunds

Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller announced today that local government may begin applying for outdoor recreation development funds under the State's $400 million ten year Next Step program.

"The fact that the Next Step program is a reality is a credit to the wisdom and forsight of New York voters who approved the Recreation Development Bond issue last November," Governor Rockefeller said. "With this program now underway and the Pure Waters program in full swing, major strides have been made in two short years to insure a healthful environment and adequate recreational facilities for our future leisure time."

To facilitate handling of municipal requests, Regional State Park Commissions and the Division of Lands and Forests in the Conservation Department have been designated as agents to receive applications for grants-in-aid under the program, the Governor said.

Ulster County communities interested should contact the Division of Lands and Forests, Conservation Department, State Campus, Albany 12226.

Governor Rockefeller urged municipalities with suitable outdoor recreation projects to apply promptly for available state-aid funds. For Federal assistance other than the Land and Water Conservation Fund grants which are administered through the State Conservation Commissioner, local governments should apply directly to the Federal administrative agencies.

The Governor explained that once a community applies for a park development, marine facility or historic trust project grant, the application is processed by the Regional Park Commission or the Division of Lands and Forests and submitted for final approval to the Conservation Commission who administers the program.

Fall Start Due For ETV Network Throughout State

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller said today that a statewide educational television network is expected to go into operation this fall.

Rockefeller said a contract for construction of the 20 microwave relay points, a monitoring station and the control center has been signed by the State Office of General Services and the New York Telephone Co.

The network, to be known as the New York Network, will be administered by the State University of New York, with each station determining its own programming.

The state presently has five educational stations: WNDT, New York; WMHT, Schenectady; WCNY, Syracuse; WXXI, Rochester; and WNED, Buffalo. Additional stations are planned for Binghamton, Watertown and Long Island.

The telephone company, using equipment from the Raytheon Co., Norwood, Mass., will build the 449 - mile - long linkage of microwave relay towers between New York City, Albany and Buffalo.

Creation of the state educational network follows recommendations made two years go by Samuel B. Gould, chancellor of the State University, and James E. Allen, state education commissioner.

The network also will have facilities for connection with the Eastern Educational Network, which consists of 14 more educational television stations along the Eastern Seaboard.

Scores Policies; Eastman Kodak

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — "The threat of the poor gaining power is too much for the middle class to accept," says an anti-poverty worker in sharp criticism of Eastman Kodak Co. policies in Rochester, N.Y.

Harold K. Schulz of New York City, anti - poverty coordinator for the National Council of Churches' division of Christian life and mission, added Monday that the poor are exploited by the power structure, including middle-class church-goers.

Seen as Condition

"Poverty is a condition in society which betrays the sinful nature of man," Schulz said, adding it would "cost more in the long range to put up with it than to wipe it out."

In Rochester, after the 1964 riots in the Negro sections which jolted the city and the nation, he said, a group called "Fight" was formed to work with the poor.

The group signed an agreement this winter with an Eastman Kodak assistant vice president, John G. Mulder, to hire 600 Rochester poor and train them for jobs rather than bring in workers from elsewhere.

"But the day after," Schulz said, "the president of Eastman said the vice president acted without authority."

"What happened? The power structure went to Kodak and said, 'Do you know what this would mean to our city if you hired all these people?'" he said.

Cites Policy

Kodak officials said at the time that the company had a long-standing policy against giving a single group the right to recruit and screen potential employes.

In Rochester Monday night, after Schulz made his speech before an "affluence and poverty" seminar, a Kodak spokesman said:

". . . Kodak has made and continues to make an unusual effort to be an effective equal opportunity employer, with from 1,250 to 1,500 non - white employes in Rochester alone and with extensive special training programs for people lacking education, skills or experience."

He said there would be more than 225 openings for persons in the company's training program in the next few months.

Discuss Delaying Confirmation for High School Years

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least one Roman Catholic bishop expressed doubt today that another bishop's plan to defer the sacrament of Confirmation from the pre-teenage to high school graduation years would gain general acceptance.

The Most Rev. Timothy Manning, auxiliary bishop of the Los Angeles Diocese, commented on the plan put forth Monday by Bishop Fulton J. Sheen of Rochester, N. Y.

No Objections

Bishop Manning said he knew of no objections to the proposal, however, adding that "there are reasons for continuing the current policy and for the later age."

Bishop Sheen told a meeting of 1,300 diocesan elementary school teachers that the deferral would give persons the needed maturity for such a step. The teachers responded with prolonged applause.

"Bishops now are being asked to confirm 11-year-old tots who haven't yet reached the age of puberty," he said. "We have forgotten there are three ages of youth—birth, puerty and maturity."

Ask for Course

In line with his plan, which he believed to be the first of its kind in the world, Bishop Sheen said he would ask educators to develop a Confirmation course for more mature students.

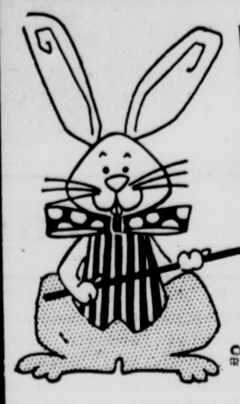

Its aim, he said, would be to instill a "reverent and prudent attitude toward sex, a concrete and practical love of neighbor and an understanding of the spirit of Christ in contrast to the spirit of the world."

Faces Smuggling Charge

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — Elizabeth Daghita of Westport, Conn., described as a Syracuse University student, faces court action on charges of smuggling marijuana into the United States from Mexico.

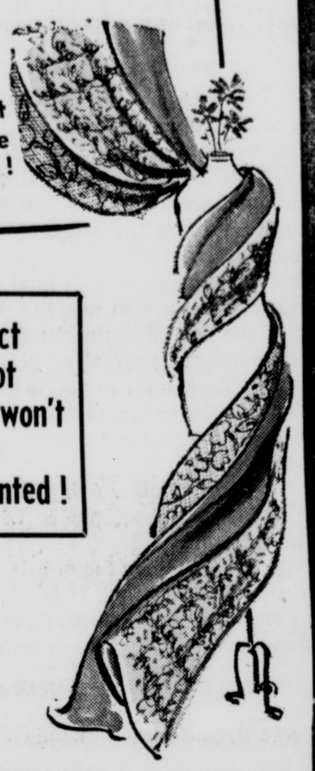

She was arrested Monday at the International Bridge in Roma, Tex. U.S. Commissioner L.B. McDonald ordered her held in the Starr County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, FEBRUARY 14 1967

SELLING US ON SAFETY

The auto industry keeps saying, possibly with good reason, that safety doesn't sell cars. But if anything can sell the American people on the importance of having more built-in safety in the cars they drive, it ought to be the news that 1966 auto death figures jumped seven per cent over the black 1965 total of 49,000. Last year, 52,500 died in auto accidents.

The death toll does not tell the whole story. Nearly two million others received disabling injury, and the National Safety Council estimates the economic loss as 9.8 billion dollars.

There is nothing new in kind about this; the differences are in degree. But that is part of the horror of the situation. The toll keeps mounting, year after year, going on from one black total to another still blacker. One has the feeling that this is inevitable that it is impossible to arrest this grisly trend.

It is not impossible. A hard, unremitting push for safer autos, coupled with a drive for improvement in roads and traffic regulation and all the other factors that enter in, could reverse the trend. It is a question of how well Americans are sold on road safety, and how insistent they are in demanding it.

STEPPED-UP CRIME WAR

President Johnson's proposals for stepping up the national war against crime on the whole reflects a broad popular awareness that crime is seriously on the rise. The way his proposals have been received is further evidence that the public is worried about crime, and favors strong action to deal with it.

There is no doubt that the public is right. Figures compiled by the Federal Bureau of Investigation show that major crimes have increased five times faster than the population since 1958. Some criminologists and sociologists say that for various reasons the picture is not quite as bad as the FBI statistics paint it, but the situation plainly warrants more vigorous and concerted effort.

There is reason to hope for strong bipartisan support of the administration plan to throw some 50 million dollars this fiscal year into a fight to ensure public safety. The proposals would help states and cities help themselves; there would be financing for research and pilot projects, and anti-crime planning. In broad outline, this approach meets the growing public conviction that a sustained program of crime suppression and criminal rehabilitation on a national scale is long overdue.

The U.S. embassy in Paris denies that Senator Robert F. Kennedy got a Vietnam peace feeler. If there's one thing that heats up the White House, it's the thought of Bobby getting credit for settling the war.

The FCC moves to ban walkie-talkies. It really doesn't take much political courage: the kids who got 'em for Christmas can't vote.

BOBBY KENNEDY'S OVER-ZEALOUS FRIENDS

If Senator Robert F. Kennedy and his all-too-zealous friends aren't careful, they are going to split the Democratic Party along geographical fault lines just as the Republican Party has been split. The roots of the LBJ party are in the West and South, and, since the population drift and the spread of economic resources are definitely away from the American Northeast, this means that a Kennedy may have real trouble in reaching the White House in 1972.

The latest Kennedy error has been to challenge Lyndon Johnson and Dean Rusk in the making of foreign policy. It did not sit at all well with either the President or Rusk when Bobby, on his European foray, made esoteric references in Britain to negotiations over Vietnam that could be "crucial" in the next few weeks. Senators are supposed to "advise and consent" in foreign relations, but it is traditional that they don't try to undercut the State Department by using a foreign forum to bring delicate negotiations into the limelight or by conferring conspicuously with officials of foreign governments. So, when Newsweek magazine printed a report that Bobby was coming home with a three-pronged peace proposal that had French endorsement, Lyndon Johnson figuratively hit the ceiling. Being a Texas, LBJ proceeded to call what people close to the White House are now referring to as "Bobby's bluff."

It isn't that Newsweek had invented the story; Bobby, indeed, had talked with important people in Paris in the presence of a U. S. Embassy official, and had some peace "speculations" in his pocket. But, as Dean Rusk has tried to explain, "private" assurances have a way of coming to nothing when they are followed up by anybody with official accreditization. Bobby was quick to deny he was the bearer of any "official message," but pro-LBJ people in the State Department think he was trying to cop advance credit for something good if and when it comes to pass.

Bobby has said he doesn't want "to make it more difficult by seeming to make this a personal issue between myself and the President." But his journalistic friends have been unwilling to drop the issue. News involving a Kennedy can't be whisked out of the columns without a long echo—and the multiplication of echoes threatens to turn the Democratic Party into a replica of the Republican, with personality factors superimposed on regional factors to set the East off against the West and South.

The division in the Republican Party which resulted in the Goldwater nomination is less virulent today, for Republicans know there is some papering over to do if they are to win the next election. But the fact is that the power of the West and the South in the Republican Party was increased by the November 1966 elections. With Republican conservatives in the governors' chairs in Alaska, Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, Wyoming, Montana, Minnesota Florida and South Dakota the conservatives easly took control of the Executive Committee of the Republican Governors Association at the Colorado Springs meeting.

No matter who gets the Republican Presidential nod in 1968, he will have to satisfy the West and the South. This is the meaning of the emergence of "favorite son" candidacies in Texas, California, Ohio, and elsewhere outside the East. The "favorites" may eventually settle on a Romney, but they are going to trade for influence.

The same pattern is discernible in the Democratic Party, with "favorite son" candidacies being offered to head off a Wallace revolt in the South and so hold the fort for a Johnson-Humphrey success in 1968. By 1972 the pattern, with Johnson encouragement, may be solidified—and if Bobby Kennedy remains the victim of friends who won't "let up on Lyndon" he could find the whole South and West against him. Moreover, he could end by alienating the press: when, in the middle of the row over the Manchester book, Arthur Schlesinger Jr. informed Look magazine that henceforward no Kennedy or Kennedy-supporter by-line would appear in Look, it didn't sit well with the editors of Cowles publications. As Dick Nixon could tell Bobby Kennedy's friends, it doesn't pay to tangle with the press.

Bobby, of course, has a long time in which to retrieve himself. His intelligence will tell him to stop pressing, but it may be another matter to call off those over-zealous friends.

The Doctor's Mailbag

Many Drugs for Control Of High Blood Pressure

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Are there any procedures that can reduce a blood pressure of 200 very rapidly? Would they require hospitalization?

A—Many drugs are used to control high blood pressure. One of the quickest and safest is diazoxide. Hospitalization is not essential but is highly desirable because the best results require close medical supervision.

Other procedures that have been used successfully in selected patients include cutting the roots of sympathetic nerves in the lower back where they emerge from the spinal column and the implantation under the skin of a miniature battery with its electrodes attached to the carotid sinus nerve in the neck.

Q—I'm 61 and have high blood pressure. My doctor is giving me Aldomet and Diuril. Is it harmful to take these drugs indefinitely?

A—Methyldopa (Aldomet) and cholorothiazide (Diuril) in the usually prescribed dosage are safe when taken under medical supervision including periodic blood counts. If, for any reason, it becomes necessary to discontinue either drug, your doctor can give you other drugs that will keep your blood pressure within normal limits.

Q—How serious is a blood pressure of 250 over 184?

A—The lower (diastolic) reading is the one to watch. Any reading of over 100 is dangerously high. Measures to reduce it should be started at once and kept up indefinitely.

Q—What is meant by hypertensive arteriosclerosis? My blood pressure is 145 over 70.

A—The term means hardening of the arteries associated with high blood pressure but a blood pressure of 145 over 70 in an adult is well within the normal range.

Q—How safe is Parnate? Can it be taken for a long period?

A—The tranquilizer, tranylcypromine (Parnate), should not be taken by anyone who is over 60 or anyone who has high blood pressure, coronary heart disease, stroke, epilepsy or liver disease. Anyone who is taking this drug must avoid eating pickled herring or cheese, drinking alcohol or taking other drugs because such actions lead to severe poisoning. Within these limits the drug may be taken under medical supervision as long as your doctor discovers no contraindications.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Johnson calls his foreign aid request the bare minimum needed. But some congressmen have already bared their teeth to make the bare minimum even barer.

A top auto executive says the industry will be able to comply with federal safety standards — which, though he didn't mention it, is just what the law requires.

A columnist says Washington doesn't know what kind of China it wants. How about one that exports more egg foo young and less nerve-wracking talk of conquest?

"Forward March---Wherever You Are!"

Washington News

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)— For a number of years, foreign diplomats traveling in Mao Tse-tung's Red China have reported privately to their governments that in the countryside local administrators and army commanders had built up virtual local kingdoms.

To the diplomats, these local bosses seemed to operate in the same way as the local Chinese war lords of pre-Communist days — except that they wore Communist hats.

Peking, apparently, did not have a great amount of control over these local rulers. The local men had the backing of the farmers and village people in their areas. They had troops and lesser officials loyal to themselves. They lived well.

Despite Peking's orders they winked at a wide variety of local "capitalist" practices. For a cut, they allowed farmers to operate private plots, small rice mills and neighborhood manufacturing plants. The local people made a profit. So did the war lords. Peking, they figured, would be none the wiser.

In these areas scattered through Red China, there was a return to the old ways. Family loyalties were strong despite the antifamily efforts of the Peking government.

Throughout the countryside there was a great suspicion of the central government. That government attempted repeatedly to separate the farmer from "his" land. It took more of his food when it could. It constantly attempted to change his way of life. Most of these changes brought him greater hardships.

Then came the Great Leap Forward, when the Peking government attempted to turn the farmers into farm "factory" workers. They were to live in barracks, separated from their families, work on common plots of land, own nothing "except their toothbrushes," receive nothing except subsistence, work on community projects and Communist-led activities at night after the farm work was done.

By 1960, sections of China broke out in full-scale rebellion. Almost all of China existed on the edge of starvation.

Lin Piao was put in charge of the army, told to quell the rebellions and bring control back to Peking.

But the army was rebellious itself. Troop morale was low, reflecting the suffering of the soldier's families in the famine-ridden countryside.

Lin had first to win over the army. To do this he made a series of concessions. He ordered widespread promotions. He created special privileges for army men. He promised modern weapons, including nuclear arms.

The army then backed the Red government, suppressed the rebellions. By 1962, things were relatively quiet again, but most of the war lords remained—and so did the smoldering rural dissatisfactions.

From 1962 to 1967 the government has been taking steps to make certain these rebellions would not happen again. It has sent purgers to eliminate the war lords and other independent and dissident men and women. It has renewed purges within the army which had been discontinued in the critical 1960 - 62 years.

This history explains in part the reports of rebellious armies led by local generals and administrators against Mao in recent days. These anti-Mao attitudes are not something which have sprung to life recently. The local anti-Peking, anti-Mao groupings have been in existence for years, waiting for a crack in the Peking hierarchy.

Today in History

Allot Funds to Curb Crime But Ignore Court Decisions

WASHINGTON — Although President Johnson sent to Congress a lengthy message last week proposing the expenditure of Federal funds to deal with crime prevention and law enforcement in states and cities, no attention was given by the President to the harmful effects of court decisions which provide criminals with technicalties enabling them to go free.

The District of Columbia, for example—which is under direct supervision of the Federal government—has today perhaps the worst crime record in the country. This has developed since the famous "Mallory" decision was rendered in 1957 by the Supreme Court of the United States, and after subsequent rulings.

Representative John L. McMillan, Democrat of South Carolina, chairman of the House Committee on the District of Columbia, replied recently to a letter from Washington bankers, written to the President and other government officials, complaining about the crime problem. He says:

"Beginning in 1958, the trends in crime in the District of Columbia reversed. From that date to the present, the volume of crime has increased nearly 300 per cent, a far greater increase than in any other comparable city in the nation."

Mr. McMillan refers to cases in which persons convicted in lower courts have been released, and adds that "the criminal mind is alert to court decisions which provide a means of escape from conviction."

Chairman McMillan declares also that members of the district committee of the House of Representatives spent "thousands of hours" during the last six years in hearings, studies and conferences to draft effective legislation against crime in the District of Columbia. The measure, known as the "Omnibus Crime Bill," passed the House by a two-to-one majority in three successive Congresses. Last year the bill reached the point of conference between the House and Senate for the first time, and was passed by both houses in the closing days of the session, only to be vetoed by President Johnson after Congress had adjourned. Thus no opportunity was afforded to override the veto or revise the legislation.

Representative McMillan says that, while improvement in the police system and the provision of extra funds for law enforcement are decidedly helpful, all this will be of little avail unless the courts are cooperative in battling crime. He continues:

"Nationwide, it appears that we may have been concentrating on the wrong answers to crime for many years. Forty years ago, we had more poverty, more slums, poorer schools, lower educational achievement, but a crime rate which was significantly lower than today.

"In the meantime, we have tried to reduce crime through expenditures for education, housing programs and slum clearance, counselors and psychiatrists for our juveniles, indeterminate sentences, probation, parole, and rehabilitation for criminals, only to find a rapid acceleration in the crime rate.

"A recent national study indicated that 85 per cent of those persons apprehended for crimes were repeat offenders."

Unfavorable sociological conditions alone are not to blame for the situation here, as Mr. McMillan points out that the operating expenses per pupil in schools in the district of Columbia are probably the highest of any comparable city. Welfare and public-health expenditures have been doubled within recent years, while large sums have been spent for slum clearance and public housing. Mr. McMillan mentions also that this city has one of the lowest unemployment rates of any city in the nation and that the per-capita income levels are high. He adds:

"Despite these facts, the crime rate has increased almost 300 per cent in 10 years, about double the national average rate, and crime clearance here has dropped from 57 per cent to 25 per cent, during the same time the District of Columbia prison population at Lorton has dropped from approximately 2,200 to about 1,100. Such results are not primarily because of any basic defect in organization, inefficiency, or inadequacy of facilities of the Metropolitan Police Department.

For some undisclosed reason, the administration has ignored the severe blows to law enforcement that have come from the Supreme Court in recent years.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By Sophie Miller

One of my readers brought me an interesting item. It is a reprint of the front page, two sides of the New York Daily Times, dated Nov. 27, 1854. It is an exact copy of six columns. Two other pages are used for advertising purposes. This paper describes in full the charge of the famous Light Brigade which took place at the battle of Balaclava on Oct. 25, 1854, in the war with Russia. It is said, it was the result of mistaken order from a commanding officer, and in 25 minutes more than two-thirds of the soldiers had been killed or wounded.

Most of us know the famous poem by Lord Alfred Tennyson, called The Charge of the Light Brigade. The second verse read in part: "Forward, the Light Brigade!" Was there a man dismay'd? Not tho' the soldier knew—Someone had Blunder'd: Their s not to make reply, Theirs not to reason why, Theirs but to do and die; Into the valley of Death—Rode the six hundred."

Time and time again, as one reads history, one finds, through the blunder of one or two higher officials or military men, is the cause of death of innocent men, who do not dare to disobey.

Tennyson's poem, which many of us had to memorize in our school days reads one: Cannon to right of them, Cannon to left of them, Cannon in front of them . . . When can their glory fade? O the wild charge they made! All the world wonder'd —Honour the charge they made! Honour the Light Brigade, Noble six hundred!" which ends the poem. The entire poem can be found in books on English literature.

In the 1960's we practically see history while its happening if the TV camera is there. In those years, the New York Daily Times of Nov. 27th 1854 paper has an article which reads "From the London Times Correspondent, Wednesday, Oct. 25, 1854" covering the gallant but disastrous cavalry charge. The correspondent gives a description as it occurred under his own eyes . . . he writes in part thus: "the light cavalry were utterly useless in the performance of one of their most important duties—the collection of supplies for the army —that they were "above their business, and too fine gentlemen for their work;" I read the fine print and wondered how this eyewitness correspondent got out alive after following the entire charge and geting all the details. The battle was fought on foot and horseback. They list for instance "4 P. M. In our cavalry right to-day we had 13 officers killed or missing, 156 men killed or missing, total, 169; 21 officers wounded, 197 men wounded, total 218; total killed, wounded and missing 387. Horses killed or missing 394; horses wounded, 126; total 520. Nearly 200 men were not present with the Cavalry." Then as now war takes the flower of youth and men.

In this same Nov. 27, 1854 copy of the N. Y. Times, from the Cronicle correspondent, item reads in part: "By an inbecile command, a misconception as to its nature . . . which will probably never be sifted, the flower of the British army were thus led to certain butchery . . . They mention a Captain Nolan who fell in battle . . . "Let the fault lay on whom it may, this morning of the 25th of October, (1854) was a calamitous one for Old England. When shall we speedily raise again such dashing hussars and light dragoons—such skillful horsemen — such heroic soldiers?" item finishes.

The World Today

Criticism Is Assured For LBJ Regardless

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — In his lonely job President Johnson has to be the long-distance runner.

If he had failed to send troops into the Dominican Republic in 1965, and if the Communists had taken over, he never would have lived it down.

Did the Opposite

But the Communists didn't prevail and Johnson was criticized. Now that peace has been restored in the republic, criticism of Johnson has died down.

Since 1954 the United States, under Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy, had its hands in South Vietnam, wanting to keep it away from the Communists.

By the time Johnson took over in 1963 the Reds were getting closer to domination and by 1965 they looked only inches away.

If he had turned his back on the South Vietnamese then, he would have abandoned all previous efforts under Eisenhower and Kennedy to save the country.

And, if the Reds did take over, Johnson never would have lived that down, either. And his failure might have ruined his presidency.

Further, the other Southeast Asia nations which had looked to this country for help against Communist attempts to swamp them — particularly since Red China dominated the continent — undoubtedly would have lost heart.

Did the Opposite

Johnson not only didn't withdraw American help from South Vietnam but did the opposite. And the criticism of him for this never has stopped. But criticism from other groups, if he had withdrawn, wouldn't be over now, either.

He ordered the bombing of North Vietnam and now he gets it from both sides at home. Those who claim to be appalled by the bombing and those who say he isn't bombing hard enough.

But if the North Vietnamese agree to quit fighting, if the other Southeast Asia nations are heartened by the American resistance to communism, if communism then is indefinitely discouraged from new adventures, and if peace is restored to the whole area, Johnson eventually will be praised.

Thus he is in the spot of a man who knows he will be criticized no matter what he does, and all he can do is what he thinks best, believing in the end history will justify him.

Lonely Process

It's a lonely process. It takes a long time. Meanwhile, he shows no signs of chickening out of his responsibilities as he sees them no matter which side at home tries to climb up his back.

But in the process he is plagued by a problem which has no parallel in American history. He not only has to think about the enemy in this case, North Vietnam, but about the Soviet Union and Red China, which are not directly involved.

Because of the chaos in China today Johnson probably finds it impossible to decide just how much of a role the Red Chinese at this moment are playing in North Vietnam's unwillingness so far to talk peace.

At the same time he can't know what those former friends, but now enemies, the Soviets and Chinese, will do to each other in a way that will affect the war in Vietnam.

The Soviets have been supplying the North Vietnamese with arms, sent through or over Chinese territory. A final Soviet-Chinese split might pretty much end Soviet help for North Vietnam.

That will affect the war. And if the Chinese fall any deeper into their present lunacy, they may lose interest in Vietnam. This kind of guessing, which Johnson has to do, can be rearranged in almost any other direction.

Sunday Red China's foreign minister, Chen Yi, accused this country of trying to "cover up" intensified war efforts in Vietnam with a "smokescreen of peace talks."

Gets Little Sympathy

At the same time in London a Soviet commentator was saying Mao Tse-tung was trying to build a "Chinese wall" to halt the flow of supplies and communications between Moscow and North Vietnam in hopes of prolonging the war.

Johnson is a man who deserves tremendous sympathy and understanding in his difficult job but at this time he doesn't seem to be getting much.

Mother Slashes Three Children Girl, 7, Succumbs

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)— A suburban housewife, who police say stabbed and slashed her three children one fatally, was held under guard today at Meyer Memorial Hospital.

Meanwhile, detectives refused to discuss possible motives in the attack, claiming they were following a directive from the Erie County district attorney's office.

The woman, Mrs. Carol Quinn, 35, suffered apparently self-inflicted stab wounds in the chest and slashes on the neck and wrists during the incident Monday in the family's duplex apartment in the Town of Tonawanda, police said.

She was charged with first-degree murder.

Investigators found 7-year-old Eileen Quinn dead of stab wounds in the heart.

Michael, 10, suffered knife wounds in the back and a cut arm and sister, Kathleen, 12, suffered slashes on both arms. They were reported in fair condition at Kenmore Mercy Hospital.

Police said they learned of the incident when the father, James Quinn, called them after having telephone conversations with his wife and Michael while at work. He later was placed under sedation.

Two knives and a razor blade were recovered at the scene, detectives said.

The children were home because of a Lincoln's Birthday school holiday, they said.

The family moved to this area from Utica seven years ago.

Increase Noted For Socialist Labor

A recent issue of the "Weekly People", official paper of the Socialist Labor Party, reports that there was a substantial increase in the votes received by the Socialist Labor Party in last year's election.

In 1964, the Socialist Labor Party candidate for President, Eric Hass, received about 45,000 votes in 16 states where his name was listed on the ballot.

Last November, Socialist Labor Party candidates appeared on the ballot in 7 states, with the total votes received by the heads of the ticket amounting to 63,403.

These figures do not include the votes received by the Socialist Labor Party in the states where the party conducted write-in campaigns.

Note Huge Drop In Hudson Valley For Construction

Construction in the Mid-Hudson Valley in 1966 was down by over $50 Million compared to 1965 according to the State Commission on Housing and Community Renewal.

The report states that overall construction of buildings in the state totaled over $2.6 billion, a rise of about three per cent over 1965.

The most glaring drop in the valley came in the area of private home construction which saw a 36 per cent decrease. According to the report, 8,522 new homes were built in 1965 compared to only 4,543 in 1966. The units built in 1965 were valued at $103,899,000 compared to $66,052,000 last year.

Permits for new non-residential construction also took a dive, dropping 26 per cent. The total of 1965 was $63,086,000. Last year it was $46,549,000.

The value of additions and alterations did increase however, by 31 per cent but this was not enough to offset the big losses in the residential and non-residential area. The 31 per cent increase reflected a rise from $10,626 in 1965 to $13,595 in 1966.

Testing Device Able to Measure Reserve of Man

By JAMES V. LAMB

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — There are scores of instruments in a cockpit to show how an airplane is running and how much fuel is left, but so far there's little to show how the pilot is holding out.

A team at the Franklin Institute believes it has solved that problem and can show how much longer — in hours and minutes — a man can effectively do his job. The study may lead some day to a kind of manmeter that works something like your car's fuel gauge.

Carl A. Silver, manager of the laboratory, said the device would be invaluable for men in critical jobs — such as pilots, air traffic controllers or radar scope watchers.

Silver and Bruce Rosenberg, a research scientist, said in interviews the device measures a man's reserve and the rate it is being depleted.

Silver used the example of two drivers: "A man who has been driving only 15 minutes is different from one who has been driving eight hours. The man who has driven eight hours probably can't drive another eight. The man who has been driving only 15 minutes can drive much longer — he has some reserve."

Driving, while not physically taxing, can leave a person exhausted at the end of the day.

Silver explained it this way:

As a person tires, he applies more and more of himself to the task to maintain a level of efficiency. A driver behind the wheel four hours is still as effective as one who has been driving 15 minutes. Both pull away from the curb the same way, both stop at traffic lights the same, both react to driving situations the same. But as a driver is at the wheel longer his muscles become more and more tense. That's why after driving all day you're stiff or have a sore neck.

By measuring the electrical signal from the muscles, and plotting it on graphs Silver and his team say they can predict when efficiency begins to break down.

The two-year study is financed by a $20,000 grant from the Public Health Service and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Expect to Bare Decision Today On Curvy Pamela

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Curvy Pamela Brewer continued attending classes today as the University of Florida considered how to punish her for posing in the buff for an off-campus humor magazine.

A decision on her punishment was expected to be announced today.

"If the penalty is serious, such as suspension or expulsion, it will be my recommendation to the girl and her parents to carry the appeal as high as necessary," said her lawyer, Selig Goldin.

He said he has not decided whether to fight a minor penalty.

The faculty discipline committee found Miss Brewer, 18, guilty of indiscreet and inappropriate conduct after a public hearing Friday.

Dr. J. Wayne Reitz, the university president, may accept or change whatever penalty the committee recommends.

There were reports that the committee favored a minor penalty, similar to that given 18-year-old Sue Schmidt of Tampa, who was put on social probation after posing topless for the same magazine.

Social probation restricts the freedom of a coed on weekends and prevents participation in some campus social events.

Miss Brewer's 38-25-38 figure was displayed in the center spread in the magazine which circulates primarily in Gainesville and Tallahassee.

U.S. Chamber of Commerce Embarks on Information Blitz

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — New and shifting pressures on the business community, including Americans' rising educational level and the growing number of working women, has provoked the U.S. Chamber of Commerce into a blitz information program.

Hit 35 Cities

Beginning today in Greenville, S.C., and Detroit, chamber speakers will visit 35 cities in 32 states in the next six weeks to arouse and educate businessmen to some of these trends and the possible danger in them.

The program, according to the national chamber, is based partly in the fear that today's affluent well-educated and increasingly young population may be willing to sacrifice some freedom for security.

A result of this—a result the chamber feels is either imminent or already with us—is that the federal government will assume a greater role in business and the economy. This role, by its nature, would be restrictive.

Among the trends changing our society and exerting forces on business, the chamber lists these:

More Young People

Population — It is changing. Young people will make up the greatest part of a big population growth, especially in the 1970s and 1980s. More workers will be under 25. And the ratio of working women will rise sharply, from about one in four now to around one in two.

If businessmen wish to be heard effectively, they must be aware of and in touch with these new groups.

Education—"In the depression 30s only 3 in 10 were high school graduates. Today the ratio is 7 to 10. With better education, Americans are developing rising expectations. They have stronger views about becoming the new majority. Because the individual in this group enjoys job security and a comfortable income, he thinks standards of performance for business."

These and other forces, the chamber says, create this impact:

"The educated middle class is of his economic status as the norm.

"This colors his views on social legislation so that he is quite willing to accept government programs for minimum incomes, job security, and more Social Security without considering the effect on the market system."

"Is there a danger," the chamber asks, "that, despite his greater affluence today's better educated American may sacrifice some of his freedom in a search for security?"

Broadly Conceived Ideas

A perusal of the chamber's literature indicates its education attempt is broadly conceived, aimed at convincing people that today's society is probably better than tomorrow's might be if we don't watch out.

Few specific alternatives to the threats are offered. The chamber places its reliance on the hope that people educated in free enterprise will defend it.

The chamber says it hopes to arouse and inform businessmen about the key issues. "Concern about the state of affairs is meaningless without enlightened action," it concludes.

Summons Issued After 209 Collision

A Plainview, L. I., man was issued a summons charging unsafe backing after his station wagon and a tractor-trailer collided on Route 209 three miles south of Ellenville, at 12:55 p. m. Monday. He will appear later before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel of Kerhonkson.

Sergeant Henry S. Rhodes of Ellenville state police sub-station investigated the accident and reported a station wagon operated by Martin Cohen of Plainview had run past a driveway. The driver started to back up to enter the drive which was located on a curve in the highway. A tractor-trailer operated by Bernard Pitt, 32, came around the curve and the two vehicles collided. The tractor-trailer continued on in the ditch. Pitt received a hip injury.

The accident took place about three miles south of Ellenville.

Overheated Motor

Woodstock firemen were dispatched to the home of Jay Alan on Glasco Turnpike Monday, after smoke from an overheated motor on the heating plant caused a fire scare, according to a fire company spokesman.

Ambulance Unit Meets Tonight

By-laws dues and other matters will be discussed tonight at the February meeting of the Hudson Valley Ambulance Association to be held at the offices of Doctors Ambulance on Greenkill Avenue, according to Clifton W. Jones, Saugerties, secretary.

The association plans to meet on the first Tuesday of each month. A snowstorm on Feb. 7 caused the postponement of this month's session until 7 p. m. today.

All ambulance operators in the area are invited to attend the meeting.

Harold Lloyd Is Back, Comedian Gets Big Welcome

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I lost a generation by staying off the screen," says Harold Lloyd, "so I decided to see if I could still make young people laugh."

He can. That has been abundantly proved with showings of "Harold Lloyd's Funny Side of Life" at university campuses throughout the country. The laughter demonstrated that the 73-year-old comic's way with a gag remains as surefire as it was during his heyday on the screen in the 1920s and 1930s.

"Yes, it has been just splendid; I'm delighted with the reaction," remarked Lloyd, who has never lost his boyish zest for everything he does. "I went out with a film that included a half-hour of prologue, including some of the gags from various pictures, and then the whole of 'The Freshman.' That was a satire of college life which I made in 1925, and it still seems to apply today.

"The picture has shown at about 12 universities, and I have appeared at five of them. I run the picture and then I hold a symposium. I encourage the students to speak their minds. My goodness, they certainly do!

"I showed the picture at Champaign, Ill., to the National Student Congress, and I never had a better reaction. Afterwards they were questioning me about Ronald Reagan and they asked if I had thought about going into politics.

"When I told them no, one student said, 'Well, if you ran tonight, I know you would win!'"

With the death of Buster Keaton and Stan Laurel and the advent to Europe of Charlie Chaplin, Harold Lloyd has become the last star of the screen's great era of comedy to remain on the Hollywood scene. Except for an abortive return in Preston Sturges' "Mad Wednesday" in 1950, he hasn't appeared in a movie since "Professor Beware" in 1938.

He continues to live in his Benedict Canyon showplace-mansion, the likes of which today's stars dream about but can't afford.

But Lloyd refuses to be a mere relic of Hollywood's glorious past. Occasionally he has re-edited his old classics for showings in art houses and at film festivals. The reaction from the universities has proved his biggest recent enthusiasm.

"Right now I'm deciding what to do next," he said. "The concert-type appearance at the universities is a tremendous field."

Plan Meals for Astros

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A researcher says "good hot meals will provide the sense of well-being" for astronauts on future flights lasting years.

Dr. Howard E. Bauman, an official of the Pillsbury Co., said "the foods will have to be a bit thicker and certain safeguards will be necessary."

He said his firm has learned how to put 25,000 calories, representing 44 different and nutritionally balanced meals into a "medium-sized box." He added that the box would feed one man for 10 days, and could be stored for years.

Note Birth Rate Dip During 1966; 3,322,000 Babes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Public Health Service statistics indicate both the live birth rate and the number of babies born in this country continued to decline during 1966.

Though figures for the whole year 1966 are not yet available, there were 3,322,000 births during the first 11 months of last year, 131,000 fewer than the 3,453,000 in the corresponding 1965 months.

The birth rate decreased by 5 per cent, from 19.5 to 18.5 for each 1,000 population, during the same period.

The final PHS report on 1965 natality statistics, also issued today, showed there were 3,760,358 live births that year—the first year since 1953 that the number had dropped below four million. The final total compared with a provisional estimate last Feb. 28 that there had been 3,767,000 births during 1965.

During the 12 months ended last November there were 3,635,000 births, compared with 3,789,000 in the 12 months ended November 1965.

The service also reported a continuing increase in marriages through last November, with 1,672,000 reported during the first 11 months of 1966, up from 1,628,000 in the similar 1965 span.

The marriage rate also was up, from 9.2 to 9.3 per 1,000 population—the fourth year in succession that the rate has increased.

Finesse Better Than Drop Play

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The advantage of the drop play against the finesse play when you are able to wait until the second round for your finesse isn't large. Actually, the drop play under those circumstances will succeed only 18 times more than a finesse in 1,000 hands. Therefore, the expert only prefers the drop play when all other things are equal. When he has collateral information, he may well decide that the finesse is better.

The key cards today are the same as yesterday but something has been added. West has opened the bidding with three clubs.

This preemptive bid makes South so enthusiastic about his hand that he contracts for seven no-trump after finding out that his partner holds the missing ace and kings.

He gets the same opening lead of the club jack and leads a spade to dummy's king at trick two. Then he leads the second spade and after East follows Expert South is apt to think quite awhile. After all, more than 2,000 points are riding this time instead of a mere 30-point overtrick.

If he is a real expert, he won't think long because he is going to finesse. The club bid has marked West with a lot of clubs. At this time of decision South will know that East's ten remaining cards won't include many clubs while West's 11 remaining cards will include a lot of clubs. Hence East will be more likely to hold the queen of spades than West and South will know that on this occasion the finesse offers a better chance of success than the drop play.

Syracuse GI Is Killed in Second Vietnam Tour

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Army Pfc. George J. Widger of Syracuse, who volunteered to serve a second consecutive tour of duty as a combat soldier in Vietnam, is listed as killed in action.

His mother, Mrs. Bertha Guthman of North Syracuse, said Monday he had re-enlisted and asked for Vietnam duty again because he considered the war there "worthwhile."

The Defense Department in Washington announced Widger's death Monday. He was the son of Rockwell R. Widger of suburban Nedrow.

Nuns in Charm School

LOS ANGELES, (AP) — A teacher of airline hostesses, who guided 48 Iowa postulants through a charm course, says the nuns' response was similar to that of regular candidates for stewardess job.

Mrs. Mavis Kimball coached 200 student stewardesses in gracious behavior for Continental Airlines last year.

Recently she and another airline instructor were invited by the Sisters of Charity of the Blessed Virgin Mary in Dubuque, Iowa, to give prospective nuns a four-day poise class.

The course emphasized good grooming, skin care and general etiquette.

Red Cross Lists Viet Donations; Tops $½ Million

A deep concern for the well-being of others is the foundation of all American Red Cross activity.

In recent months this has been most evident in the out-pouring of gifts from Red Cross Youth, from individual chapters, and from the Red Cross national organization to aid the suffering people of South Vietnam, and victims of disaster in other parts of the world.

In fiscal year 1965-66 alone, American Red Cross material assistance to South Vietnamese nationals totaled some $538,000.

Youth Vital Factor

Of this, $500,280 worth was provided by Red Cross Youth. It included 152,000 friendship boxes, 50,145 friendship kits, 900 regular and modified school chests, 500 world globes and first aid kits, and 3,000 cans of sweetened condensed milk.

Aid from the national organization included two ambulances and two other vehicles for use by the Vietnamese Red Cross in relieving the needs of people whose lives were disrupted by the armed conflict; wheelchairs and cots; and medical supplies donated by pharmaceutical companies.

In the current fiscal year, eight American Red Cross men were dispatched to South Vietnam to work with the South Vietnamese Red Cross in resettling displaced persons in refugee camps where they could live until they can find permanent dwellings, and also be restrained if their original means of livelihood, usually farming, had been cut off.

Pursuant to this objective, aid was sought from Red Cross chapters. In all four domestic areas they responded with materials and cash grants totaling $46,723.50. Included is a $3,000 vehicle for the team's use, contributed by the ARC Youth Fund. The U. S. Agency for International Development is cooperating in this project.

Other Gifts

Other gifts to the South Vietnamese refugee project were equipment and cloth for sewing rooms, agricultural, carpenter's and mason's tool kits, soap, canned and powered foods.

The Red Cross Youth Office is determined to extend the allowance of sweetened condensed milk for Viet children — 1,000 cans a month for nine months — bought $15,000 worth of boys' clothing — cotton shirts and shorts — sent 723 regular and modified school chests, and planned on the production of 5,000 soft toys and purchase of $5,000 worth of small packages of candy of a type that will not melt in the Vietnamese heat. The friendship kit and box program is also continuing.

Nor were other countries in need neglected. To 11 other countries suffering in fiscal 1965-66 went $202,952 in cash and supplies. These were Indonesia, Chile, India, Korea, the Bahamas, Senegal, Burundi, and Jordan.

Over $2 Million

Including the materials to South Vietnam, a grand total of $2,204,000 in value of supplies and services went from the American Red Cross to other countries, the League of Red Cross Societies, and the International Committee of the Red Cross.

In recent months, the Red Cross societies of Laos, victim along with Vietnam of the flooded Mekong River, Turkey, and Peru, both stricken by earthquakes, got cash grants from ARC.

The American Red Cross increasingly stressed sharing of technical knowledge with its sister Red Cross societies, both through the League of Red Cross Societies' Development Section, and through direct assistance programs.

In 1965-66 ARC participated in a water safety seminar held in Nicaragua for Central American Red Cross societies; in a Safety Services conferences in the Phillippines, in the Conference of Presidents and Technical Seminar of Red Cross societies of Central America in El Salvador, and in a commission on first aid practices in Rumania.

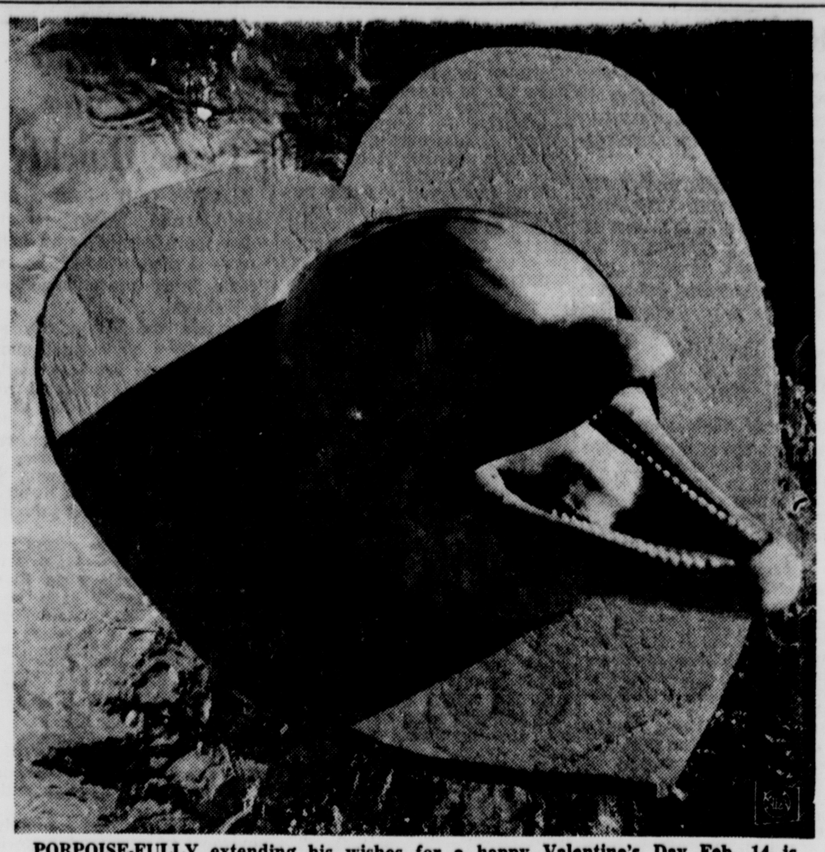

The unique ability of Red Cross to transcend political boundaries was again demonstrated, when the Chinese Red Cross agreed to accept food packages for a U. S. pilot detained in China. Packages have been delivered to civilian detainees of the Chinese since 1955.

The above-named services of the Red Cross are made possible by contributions of the American people which are made to the March Red Cross fund drives and the Community Chest fund drives.

Resnick Scored By Conservatives

Congressman Resnick has over extended himself, according to Harry S. Hoffman Jr., chairman of the Ulster County Conservative Party.

In a recent statement, Hoffman said that the Conservative Party has maintained silence during the recent adoption controversy because it wished to avoid additional publicity during the period in which the court decision was being made. "The abnormal amount of publicity," Hoffman said "hurt the one person who had already been hurt enough in her short life."

Deplores Manipulation

"Basically, the controversy has been between the two major political parties in the area. However, the recent series of releases by Congressman Resnick demand a statment in rebuttal," Hoffman continued. "The Conservative Party deplores the manipulation of this case by our Congressman apparently to further his own personal ambitions. Although he was knowledgeable of the situation many months prior to his involvement, he did not release any publicity until a few weeks before the elections.

"Our society is based on the 'Rule of Law,' Hoffman said, and the sole legitimate purpose of laws is the protection of the rights and freedoms of the individual. The adoption laws are no execption; they are a special group of laws in that they are designed to protect a segment of our society which has restricted rights due to age."

"When, in the course of civic events, a law is encountered which is unjust to the individual concerned, the proper procedure is to initiate action to correct the defects in the laws, not to circumvent them. Hoffman said. "The adoption laws are purposely stringent to assure to the fullest degree possible, the interest of the child involved. Any accelerated modifications to these laws would jeopardize the well-being of the children adopted in the future." Hoffman continues "The Conservative Party disagrees with the implied State policy (questions on adoption form) that the color of the prospective parent's eyes and complexion has any relevance to adoption decisions. However, we believe the lawmakers must, for the protection of all future adoptive children, carefully decide what is in the best interest of these children."

Significant Part Withheld

Hoffman went on the say that as to the recent Ulster County case, Congressman Resnick apparently siezed on a relatively unimportant aspect of the case and magnified it out of all proportion, The really significant aspect of the case—the medical reports—was cunningly withheld. This type of personal information normally should not be aired publicly, but Congressman Resnick was duty bound to present all the facts in the case once he decided to seek the support of the public to the detriment of the child."

"We believe a dangerous precedent is established" Hoffman said, "if foster parents are automatically allowed to assume legal responsibility for a foster child based on the length of time they have boarded the child as the boarding laws are much less stringent than the adoption laws for sound reasons. Actually, the foster home is considered the preferred environment for the child while the necessarily stringent conditions for adoption are met. If the laws are changed, or if they evolve to the point where the foster parents have preference in legal rights to the foster children, then the authoritative agency will—through necessity for the interest of the child—have to make the foster home procedure more rigid. The consequence of this action could well be regression to the practice of orphanages and the children will be the ones to suffer if this comes to pass."

"Our Congressman," said Hoffman, "not only wants to plunge head long into hasty reforms at the local level, he wants to centralize adoption proceedings. It is difficult enough for a child to make the ncessary adjustments inherent in a local adoption, but Mr. Resnick would further complicate the matter by demanding that the child make a regional adjustment as well. We do not believe a child in Alaska should be uprooted and sent to Florida, or an Ulster County child sent to California. If a national adoption clearing house is implemented, as Mr. Resnick suggests, the impersona, control from a remote location will encourage such absurdities.

Questions Pertinent Facts

"Our Congressman praised public opinion in this case but we believe the public did not have the pertinent facts from Mr. Resnick. The manner in which the national news media rushed to propagate the falsehood of this case was alarming."

Hoffman concluded, "The Conservative Party agrees with the 'Child Welfare League of America, Inc.' which scored the publicity that brought the case nationwide attention and supported Commissioner Fitzsimmons. Their January 1967 issue of The Child Welfare Journal contained an editorial entitled 'Let's Get Rid of the Phony Stories'; they advocate that all welfare agencies make it absolutely clear to any foster parent intending to contest the agency's decision in the mass media that the agency will release the information it has about the family on which its decision is based. The Journal added 'The foster parents must realize that if they choose to try the case in the press and on television, then the agency, with its responsibility to protect the child, must see that the whole story is made public and not just the foster parents' version.'

"The Conservative Party of Ulster County condemns Congressman Resnick for the demagogic tactics he employed in this case and for his absurd recommendations to consolidate the control of adoptions in a central authority, whether it be in Albany or Washington.

"The Conservative Party recommends and urges the state agency to eliminate the discriminatory system for selecting adoptive parents which it has heretofore promulgated."

Woodstock Test New Truck In Local Drill

Despite frigid weather, Woodstock Fire Co. No. 3 of Lake Hill held its regular fire drill Sunday at 9:30 a. m. and made the initial test of the second tank truck now being built by members of the company.

Under the direction of Captain H. Phillips Eighmey and Lieutenant Louis Kolbe, company members held the test on the flats off Sickler Road in Lake Hill. Water was pumped from a hole in the ice in the brook into the new tank truck. Some trouble was encountered with the valves on the truck, "but this was what the test was for," said one official of the company.

The new tank truck is mounted on a Ford chassis donated to the fire company by a public-spirited citizen, and will carry 1,000 gallons of water. A considerable amount of work is still necessary to place the truck in operation, and members are working on Saturdays at the firehouse to place the truck in service as soon as possible. Walter Stone is directing construction work on the truck, with Chief Driver Alfred Ostrander in charge of mechanical work.

Woodstock Jaycees announced at this month's general membership meeting, the start of a Shooting Education Program, to be held later this month, for youngsters in the Woodstock area.

Chairman for the project, Robert Sleight, said, "The main purpose of this program is to bring a better understanding, to youngsters, in the handling and operation of firearms and the project is made possible through the cooperation of the Daisy Air Rifle Company, who will supply all needed equipment."

At the recent meeting Jaycees heard a talk by an American Field Service student now living in Woodstock with Mr. and Mrs. Michael Tulp. The student, Mauricio Florence de Barros, is from Santo Andre, Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Mauricio spoke to the Jaycees about himself, his family and country.

"My father," said Mauricio, "is a safety engineer for a chemical company; my mother is a lawyer and also a Portugese teacher in high school. I have a younger brother, Flavio, who is nine and finished with elementary school, and another brother Marcos, 20, who will soon finish his second year in college, majoring in chemical engineering."

"The town I come from,Santo Andre, has about 400,000 people and is the second most important industrial center in the country, next to Sao Paulo, the capital of the state. There is a concentration of all the car industries in this region, and also chemical, paper and electronics

"It is interesting to be in contact with the American way of living, because it is very different from the Brazilian," he said.

"I find Americans not as warm and friendly as Latin people, even though I have made many good friends here. However, since they don't seem to know much about Brizilians and Brazil, I always feel glad to speak to Americans about us."

Jaycees in Woodstock are a growing group of young men who believe community service is the best work of life. Join the Woodstock Jaycees and become a more vital member of YOUR community, they urge.

Cites Authority To Court-Martial Certain Civilians

WASHINGTON (AP)—Claiming precedents back to the Revolutionary War, the Army has asserted its authority to court-martial American civilians "serving with or accompanying" U.S. troops in Vietnam.

The Army said Monday its position was "nothing new." It pointed to the Uniform Code of Military Justice, which says that "in time of war persons serving with or accompanying an armed force in the field" — such as newsmen — are subject to court-martial.

This has been true since 1775, the Department of Defense said.

One civilian has already been tried by a military court in Vietnam, the Pentagon said Monday. A spokesman declined to identify the defendant except to say that he was a civilian seaman.

The charge against the man was not revealed, although the spokesman said the proceeding last November was a summary court-martial, which is reserved for comparatively minor offenses.

The Army's position that the "time of war" rules are applicable now in Vietnam has not been tested in U.S. courts. There has been no formal declaration of war by the United States against any other nation in connection with the conflict in Vietnam, but the Army contends that a state of war exists.

Actually, a Pentagon spokesman said, the procedure is to consider each case involving civilians on its own merits. The circumstances determine whether the accused is to be tried by military court, by the courts of South Vietnam, or whether the matter is "disposed of administratively," he said.

Wilson: Plan Could Bring Peace Quickly

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson reported today the existence of an initiative — a plan — which he said "could bring peace tomorrow" to Vietnam.

He told the House of commons only a very small move was needed to set into motion "all the very complicated machinery that could bring us to peace."

The prime minister, answering questions in the House of Commons on his talks with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, gave no details of this initiative or plan.

Wilson said there were moments during his talks with Kosygin last week when peace negotiations "could have been very near." But he said these two elements were lacking:

"A general realization that sooner or later there must be a political settlement, and secondly, the necessary degree of trust and confidence on the part of each of the nations fighting in this war about the sincerity of the desire of the other to work for a negotiated political settlement."

Wilson said the massive movement of men and material from North Vietnam to the south had been greater than in any previous truce period. This, he said, "made it harder for the Americans to believe that the North Vietnamese leaders wished to use the truce for an effort toward peace, rather than for a further effort in war."

Cites New Faces

Nixon Sees GOP Convention Open, Many Candidates

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon predicts a "wide open" Republican National Convention in 1968 "with more than two candidates. Lots of favorite sons who stick in there. A convention with several ballots."

"We haven't had an exciting (GOP) convention in years, not since 1952," the former vice president says. "Next time nobody will have this thing locked up."

Nixon's thoughts on next year's convention are in an interview in the Feb. 25 issue of the Saturday Evening Post. He was interviewed by Jules Witcover of the Newhouse National News Service.

Given in Interview

Nixon did not indicate whether he is a possible candidate for the White House.

But in discussing his role as a campaigner in 1966, he said he could probably have "locked" the Republican presidential nomination by now if he had traveled around the country last fall looking for convention delegates instead of trying to help candidates.

Nixon said he had invited more presidential competition among Republicans by helping the party elect more governors, senators and representatives — in effect, by making the 1968 presidential nomination more valuable.

Have Best Crop

He said the Republicans have "the best crop of candidates since 1952," the year of Dwight D. Eisenhower's first election as president, with Nixon as his running mate.

Among the "best crop" and "new faces" in the nomination picture, Nixon mentioned Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois, Sen. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio, and Gov. George W. Romney of Michigan. Nixon did not mention Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Nixon said New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller "is not out of it either."

Nixon also said in the interview that if he had beaten John F. Kennedy for the presidency in 1960 he "absolutely" would have gone through with an invasion of Cuba — probably even before his inauguration if Eisenhower gave him the authorization. Nixon indicated he probably would have chosen December, the month after the election, as the time for an invasion with the forces necessary to win.

Face Murder Charges

GRIFFIN, Ga. (AP)—Five Negro brothers faced murder charges today in the death of a white man shot on a country road near here.

Authorities said the five brothers and four white men were involved in a gun battle before dawn Saturday in which another white man was wounded.

The brothers were held without bond. Sheriff Dwayne Gilbert said the incident apparently was prompted by a truck stop argument. No racial issues seemed involved, he said.

Gilbert, who released a report of the shooting Monday, said John Allen Grant, 35, a truck driver from Milner, Ga., a few miles south of Griffin, was killed. Henry Floyd Parker of Atlanta was wounded in the right hand when his own gun went off, Gilbert said.

Held on murder warrants were brothers Tommy Lee, 22, Walter J., 29, Willie L., 18, William H., 23, and Fred Evans, 28. All are from the Griffin area officers said.

Shows Concern At Cong Buildup During Cease-fire

SUPERIOR, Wis. (AP) — A Republican critic of the Johnson administration's handling of the Vietnam war says he was shaken by revelations of the Communist buildup during the recent truce.

Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski of Wisconsin, a member of the House Armed Forces Committee, said that reconnaissance photos showed more than 300 ships in North Vietnamese ports during the four-day lunar new year cease-fire. O'Konski said he saw them at a briefing by the Central Intelligence Agency in Washington Saturday.

Still Shaken

"They shook me, and I'm still shaken," O'Konski said Monday night in a speech at Concordia Lutheran Church.

O'Konski said that ships in North Vietnam ports during the truce included some from Great Britain, France, Greece, and Yugoslavia, among others.

He declared that the Soviet Union is the real enemy in the war and that the North Vietnamese "couldn't keep up the fight for more than a couple of weeks without aid of the Russians."

Notes Missile Sites

A map of surface to air missile sites in North Vietnam resembles a "bad case of smallpox," O'Konski said. He said the missile bases were the source of most American plane losses.

He said the Soviet Union should be told to remove the missiles by a certain time or have them wiped out by U.S. bombers.

"We should have showed them we meant business three years ago and the war would have been ended three years ago," the congressmen said.

Divers Search River Floor for Murder Weapons

State Police are conducting diving opeations in the Hudson River in the vicinity of the Newburgh-Beacon Bridge in the hopes of recovering the weapons used in the killing of 66-year-old Martin Simon, Balmville motel operator, who was found slain in a robbery attempt on Jan. 30.

Newburgh State Police today said the diving operations had been in progress for several days. The operation is being conducted from boats on the river. Although the river is ice filled, the diving operations are conducted after the ice has been broken and cleared away.

Five bullets from .22 and .38 caliber weapons were removed from the head and shoulders of the slain man during an autopsy performed on January 31, at St. Luke's Hospital. Police authorities say they have reason to believe that the weapons used were thrown from the bridge into the Hudson River.

Simon was shot to death during an attempt to rob the place. Three men entered the motel office on 9W, Town of Newburgh, shortly before midnight Monday, Jan. 30. Mrs. Simon was asleep in another part of the motel when the three men gunned the proprietor to death.

About two hours before the Balmville slaying, two armed men entered the Milo Gray confectionary store at 11 Renwick Street, Newburgh, and forced the owner and a customer to lay on the floor. They fled with $234 from the cash register and Gray's wallet which contained $12 and personal papers.

Two unemployed Newburgh men, John T. Graham, 25, and Louis Napoleon Warren, 33, were arrested on February 7 and charged with first degree murder in connection with the motel slaying.

Pentagon Vetoes Proposals for Stars and Stripes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has spared itself a congressional investigation by killing a plan to combine the New York bureau of the Army newspaper Stars and Stripes with a news bureau based in the Washington area.

"This should still the fears of those who felt that the move intended by the Pentagon was aimed at news management", Rep. John E. Moss., D-Calif., said Monday after if was announced the New York Stars and Stripes office would continue to operate.

When the merger plan was first announced last month, Moss said his special Government Information subcommittee would investigate to see whether the Pentagon's motive was censorship .

The Pentagon said improved efficiency and reduced costs were what it had in mind .

The proposal was to move the New York Stars and Stripes operation to Arlington, Va., and combine it with the Armed Forces News Bureau, which recently opened an office there. The bureau prepares material for military newspapers and radio and television stations.

Because of limited cable connections, some news material previously had been available only to the New York bureau and thus could be published only in the European edition of Stars and Stripes. "Newly acquired" transmission circuits of the Defense Communications Agency have made it possible for the Pacific Stars and Stripes to get the same material via New York, the Defense Department said.

Say Blumenthal Measure to Be Abort on Demand

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The main proponent of liberalization of the state's abortion law stands accused by a fellow legislator of advocating "abortion on demand."

Assemblyman Albert H. Blumenthal, who has proposed a new abortion law, opened the clash with two Roman Catholic legislators by urging lawmakers to "hold your minds open."

His remarks Monday were made in reply to a precedent-setting joint pastoral letter signed by New York State's eight Roman Catholic bishops asking the state's 6.5 million Catholics to work for defeat of the legislation.

Blumenthal, chairman of the Assembly Health Committee, came under attack from Assemblymen Dominick L. DiCarolo, R-Brooklyn, and Lawrence Murphy, D-Brooklyn.

They challenged his assertion that the only opposition to the bill during hearings last week had been voiced by Roman Catholics.

Members and visitors to the hushed Assembly chamber heard DiCarlo say:

"Mr. Blumenthal, you intend it (the bill) to be abortion on demand."

Both DiCarlo and Murphy questioned whether Blumenthal should be permitted to speak on a matter that was not up for a vote.

Blumentahl prefaced his statement by saying he wanted to make it "very clear" that he respected the right of the bishops and laymen to oppose the bill.

Bishop to Change Age Requirements For Confirmation

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The Most Rev. Fulton J. Sheen, Roman Catholic bishop of Rochester, has announced that children in his diocese would receive the Sacrament of Confirmation at about the time they graduate from high school instead of the traditional age of 9 to 12.

Bishop Sheen told a meeting of 1,300 diocesan elementary school teachers Monday that the deferral—to be effected over the next five years—would give young people the needed maturity for such a step.

The teachers responded with prolonged applause.

"Bishops now are being asked to confirm 11-year-old tots who haven't yet reached the age of puberty," he said. "We have forgotten there are three ages of youth—birth, puberty and maturity."

Bishop Sheen said he would ask educators to develop a confirmation course for more mature students.

The Most Rev. Timothy Manning, auxiliary bishop of the Archdiocese of Los Angeles, said, "there are reasons for continuing the current policy and for the later age."

Bishop Manning said he knew of no objections to Bishop Sheen's plan. He said he believed it would not start a trend and that most dioceses would stay with the age of about 12.

Memoriam

In memory of our dear daughter and sister, Vera Leaonard Hofbauer, who passed away five years ago today, Feb. 14, 1962.
Please God, keep her close beside You,
Keep her in Your tender care,
Make up all she had to suffer,
In everything that was unfair.
We think of her in silence,
No one can see us weep,
But many a silent tear is shed,
While others are asleep.

Memoriam

In sad and loving memory of my beloved husband Foster Winchell, and my father who passed away 16 years ago, February 14, 1951.
It is not tears at the graveside shed,
That tells how the heart is torn,
But the lonely tears of after years,
In sorrow so silently borne.
And at night when all is silent,
And sleep forsakes my eyes,
My thoughts are out on that lonely grave
Where my beloved husband lies.
Sacred Heart of Jesus have mercy on him.

Donors Needed For Blood Bank

The blood bank drawing for Saugerties, originally announced for last Tuesday night, was cancelled due to the inclement weather resulting from a snowstorm and blizzard.

Postponed for a week, it will be held tonight at 7 p. m. at the VFW Hall, Livingston Street. The committee in charge urges all those who possibly can participate in the blood bank; says the local supply is totally depleted and hopes are high that at least 50 pints will be donated tonight.

Blame Weather For Decrease in Automobile Sales

DETROIT (AP) — Wintry weather has received much of the blame in the latest sales slump and production lag reported by the nation's auto industry.

Industry executives Monday reported a 20.6 per cent drop in sales for the first 10 days this month and said snowstorms and zero or subzero temperatures that hit large areas of the United States were a major cause.

Worked Both Ways

While fierce weather apparently kept some buyers away from auto showrooms, it also prevented many auto workers from reaching their jobs.

The report of sales losses dovetailed with simultaneous losses or cutbacks in production and the highest inventory of unsold new autos for any Feb. 1 in history. One firm, American Motors Corp. closed its plants Monday for two weeks to bring its production in balance with sales and inventory.

All the major carmakers — General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors reported drops in sales for the first 10 days of the month as compared to the same February period last year. The difference averaged 20.6 per cent.

So far this year not one 10-day sales period has equaled its counterpart of last year.

17 PC Lower

Sales for all of January were 17 per cent below those for January 1966.

The manufacturers reported combined sales of 170,788 for the Feb. 1-10 period this year. For that period last year the total was 215,116.

General Motors, which usually commands more than 50 per cent of the car market, reported it sold 85,530 passenger cars in the Feb. 1-10 period. A year ago the GM sales were 110,863.

Ford sales were 50,441 as against 63,319. Ford Division said its combined sale of cars and trucks — 55,533 — was the third highest in history for the Feb. 1-10 period. Its record of 58,863 was set last year.

Chrysler's Feb. 1-10 sales were 30,272, compared with 34,728, and American Motors' 4,545 as against 6,206.

Trinitymen Edge Ever Closer to Dartball Pennant

Standings tightened up in Saugerties Dartball League play Monday night but Trinity, which has led the league since December, managed to add another notch in its pennant belt. By sweeping to a 3-0 victory over Centerville Vols, the Trinitymen kept their first place standing and are now three games ahead of second place Golden Eagles. The nip-and-tuck battle is far from over, however, with Quarryville and West Camp (tied for third place) still fighting hard, and Centerville and Cementon (tied for fourth place) moving up fast.

The only other sweep recorded Monday night was Cementon over High Woods. All other games played ended in 2-1 splits with South Side Men defeating Quarryville, American Legion triumphing over Malden-West Camp Vols, West Camp edging out Centerville and Golden Eagles over Saugerties Contractors.

Standings

Team	W	L
Trinity	37	14
Golden Eagles	34	17
Quarryville	30	21
West Camp	30	21
Centerville	28	23
Cementon	28	23

Reformed Church

Services at Reformed Church of Saugerties will be at 9:45 a. m. Sunday. The Rev. Orville Jay Hine will speak at both services on "Faith and Prayer." Music at early service will be by Junior Choir and at late service by Senior Choir.

Sunday church school will meet at the chapel on John Street at 9:45 a. m. coinciding with early church service. Junior Choir meets prior to the Sunday church school hour under direction of Miss Isabel Tubb gathering at 9 a. m. in the chapel.

A nursery is maintained during 11 a. m. service for little children.

The second in a series of Union Lenten Services under sponsorship of Saugerties Area Council of Churches will be held Sunday at 7:30 p. m. Speaker for the service will be the Rev. Albert Liberatori, pastor of the Malden and Quarryville Methodist churches.

Junior High Youth Fellowship will meet at 7 p. m. in the parish hall Sunday.

Saugerties Area Council of Churches will meet Monday, Feb. 20 at 6 p. m. at Saugerties Methodist Church.

Elders of the church will meet Monday, Feb. 20 at 8 p. m. at the parsonage.

The Consistory will meet Wednesday, Feb. 22 at 7:30 p. m. at the home of George A. Turner, Lafayette Street.

Sister Mary Leo Honored at Meet

Surprise presentation of flowers, a money tree and a spiritual bouquet to Sister Mary Leo, who is celebrating her 25th anniversary in the order, highlighted a recent meeting of St. Mary Rosary Society of Saugerties.

Plans were also completed for the March 5 trip to Veronica's Veil, a passion play. Tickets and bus fare are nominally priced per person and available to anyone interested in attending. The recent meeting had a large turnout and four guests were introduced to members. Following the business session, all enjoyed the fun of an auction with Mrs. Agnes Altenau acting as auctioneer. Refreshments were served by the Mmes. Robert Carr, Joseph DiDomenico, Joseph Kramer, John Laird, Robert Schnell and Floyd Turek.

Next meeting of the society will be held Thursday, March 9, a switch from the first Thursday of the month to the second and made because of the fashion show slated at the Flamingo Restaurant. Tickets for this event are available through Mrs. Robert Schnell.

Choir Celebrates At Party Tonight

Due to the Valentine party for the Youth Choir of First Congregational Church, Saugerties, there will be no rehearsal of that group tonight. Rehearsals will resume next Tuesday with Junior Choir at 6:30 and Youth Choir at 7 p. m.

Church school meets each Sunday at 10 a. m. at the church and visitors and new members are always welcome. Wendy Walker will be in charge of opening devotions in the school this coming Sunday.

Sermon topic for this week will be "Master, Speak to My Brother." Services are at 11 a. m. and all members, friends and neighbors are invited.

Youth Choir is preparing a special presentation for the Maundy Thursday evening of Holy Week and it is hoped many will attend.

Women's Fellowship is sponsoring a bake sale this Saturday in the vacant store next to the Snyder insurance office on Main Street. Anyone who can give assistance in any way is urged to do so.

A church dinner for the public will be held April 15 and those working for the success of this event can rest assured that it will mean a good deal for the church at this time.

A gift has been received in memory of the late Leslie Brooks for whom services were held last week. Thanks go to his family for this. Members of the congregation will be interested in knowing that Mrs. Mabel Myer is reported quite seriously ill in a Florida hospital.

Holiday Plan Fails

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — "Absentees? What absentees? There were none reported to us," said California Gov. Ronald Reagan's press secretary, raising his eyebrows in mock surprise.

But reporters who checked the state Capitol and state buildings at San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, San Bernardino and Fresno heard mainly their own echoing footsteps as they sought out the 166,000 state employes.

California's state workers had been invited by the new Republican governor to volunteer their services Monday, the Lincoln's Birthday holiday.

The idea was that by donating their time — at no extra pay or compensatory time off — a state Reagan describes as fiscally weakened might receive a $7-million shot in the arm, through unanticipated work accomplishments.

Social Security Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new Congress begins official study of President Johnson's Social Security program March 1 when the House Ways and Means Committee opens hearings.

Tentative plans, it was learned today, call for the tax-writing group to begin three weeks of hearings that day on Johnson's proposal to increase Social Security benefits 20 per cent and reform tax laws applying to the elderly.

The proposed elimination of existing special tax benefits for persons 65 and over — including one which exempts Social Security benefits from income taxes — is expected to get a thorough going over in committee.

Aim of the plan is to reduce or eliminate taxes for poorer elderly persons and to raise them for the aged rich.

Refuses Powell Check, Requests Certification

NEW YORK (AP) — For several years the lawyer for a Harlem widow has been trying to collect a defamation judgment against Rep. Adam Clayton Powell.

Monday, he refused to accept a $3,438.09 check from the Harlem Democrat's lawyers because it was not certified.

The check covered the outstanding interest on the award to Esther James. A jury found Powell had defamed her on a 1960 television show in which he called her a "bag woman," or graft collector for police.

Once before the congressman's lawyers tried paying off the award by check to Mrs. James' lawyer, Raymond Rubin. He insisted, and finally got, a bank check for $32,500 on the principal of the award.

Powell has been paying with the advance proceeds from a record he made, "Keep the Faith, Baby."

Claims Student Group Subsidized By Grants of CIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials of the National Student Association say the organization has been subsidized since the early 1950s by the Central Intelligence Agency, the Washington Post reported oday.

The Post quoted W. Eugene Groves, president of the NSA, as saying that no officers or employes of NSA "to our knowledge" had carried out intellizence functions for the CIA.

In the same edition, the Post carried a full-page advertisement by Ramparts magazine saying that in its March issue, Ramparts "will document how the CIA has infiltrated and subverted the world of American student leaders ... (and) has interfered, in a most shocking manner, in the internal working of the nation's oldest and largest student organization."

The Post quoted "independent sources" as saying the CIA subsidy to the student organization was started at a time when Communist governments were sponsoring youth congresses and the CIA felt a need to have the American student position represented at such gatherings.

The CIA had no immediate comment, said the Post.

The Post said it also learned that CIA subsidies to the student group were handled mainly through private foundations and in the past exceeded $100,000 a year. In recent years, the newspaper added, the subsidy has been reduced to less than $50,000 annually.

The Post quoted Groves as saying he met last month with Douglass Cater, a special assistant to President Johnson, to explain the link between the NSA and the intelligence agency. Groves said Cater had no previous knowledge of CIA ties to the student group.

Groves told the Post that in 1965 NSA was provided with a rent-free headquarters in Washington and was given $20,000 to furnish the handsome town house.

The newspaper continued: "He (Groves) said the mortgage on the building is held by the First National Bank of Washington on behalf of NSA and the Independence Foundation of Boston, which makes all of the payments.

To Name Group

"The forthcoming Ramparts article will name the Independence Foundation as one of five such groups that are handling CIA funds for the NSA account."

The newspaper also quotes Groves as saying the student group has been striving for two years to break its "covert relationship" with the CIA and that no agency funds were being accepted for its current $825,000 annual budget.

The Ramparts advertisement said its article will show that the CIA "used students to spy."

Asks Housing Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will propose new legislation to combat discrimination in housing, when he sends a special civil rights message to Congress Wednesday, the White House says.

Press secretary George Christian, who announced the forthcoming message Monday, said Johnson and three Cabinet members had met earlier in the day with a group of civil rights leaders to discuss civil rights goals.

"The president reaffirmed his commitment to seek legislative remedies against racial discrimination in housing, employment and the administration of justice," Christian said.

A Johnson-backed bill opposing housing discrimination was passed by the House last year but died in a Senate filibuster.

The press secretary said "a couple of dozen" persons took part in the discussions at the President's invitation, but would not go beyond that in identifying them.

Jayne Visits Viet

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Jayne Mansfield arrived in South Vietnam today in a silver miniskirt, black boots, a brown sweater and a blushing smile.

Her arrival at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airbase drew a chorus of whistles from GI camera bugs gathered at the ramp.

Miss Mansfield is on a tour of Far Eastern military bases and night clubs. She flies back to Los Angeles Saturday after visiting military camps throughout the country.

MRS. DONALD W. WHITFORD

Miss Janice Marie Benicase, daughter of Mrs. Susan Benicase of 224 Foxhall Avenue, Kingston, N. Y., and the late Mr. Frank Benicase, exchanged marriage vows with Donald William Whitford, son of Charles Whitford of Utica and the late Mrs. Ann Whitford, on Saturday, Feb. 4, 1967 in St. Mary's Church, this city. The Rev. Nicholas Mosunic officiated and traditional wedding music was provided by Theodore Riccobono, organist, and Virginia Mancuso, soloist.

Baskets of white gladioli decorated the church for the occasion.

The bride's brother Charles Benicase of Philadelphia, Pa., gave her in marriage She wore a full length gown of peau satin styled with sheath skirt and detachable cathedral train. A pillbox of matching lace and tulle held her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a white missal with an orchid and streamers of white mums. The bride dedicated a bouquet of white carnations at the Altar of the Blessed Mother.

Mrs. Bernice Secreto of 207 Smith Avenue, this city, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a full length gown of coral chiffon. An A-line skirt featured an overskirt of chiffon. A large rose of tulle held a circular veil and she carried a nosegay of pink mums with pink streamers.

Miss Mary Amarello, Miss Rita Amarello, Miss Lyn Ann Benicase, Miss Marsha Amarello, Miss Cheryl Martino, all nieces of the bride, served as attendants in peacock blue gowns. They carried nosegays of yellow mums with yellow streamers.

Frank Alfano of Madison, Wisc., was best man. Ushering were Jerry Gerber of Madison, Wisc., Jeff Martin, Dennis Sell, Wayne Liebel and Ken Way, all of West Hurley, N. Y.

More than 200 guests were received at The Capri 400 in Port Ewen for a reception.

The bride was graduated from Immaculate Conception School, Kingston High School and Kingston Beauty School. She is employed by LeCoiffure Beauty Salon.

Mr. Whitford is an alumnus of Utica Free Academy and served six years with the U. S. Air Force. He is now a system test technician employed by IBM.

When Mr. and Mrs. Whitford return from their wedding trip to Florida, they will reside on Orlando Street, this city.

SCENE FROM BIZET'S CARMEN—As part of a program to introduce the world of opera to students of all ages, the Amato Opera Company will appear for a benefit performance in the Ellenville Central School, Ellenville on March 21 at 2 p. m. Arrangements were made by Sanford Grossman, director of the Giant Step Program in cooperation with the Ellenville High School Student Council. The Amato Opera Company is now appearing in New York's Town Hall. Founded in 1948, the Amato Opera Company has spent the last 18 years increasing the popularity of operatic works. The Giant Step Program provides programs for the culturally and educationally deprived children.

Future Plans Noted By Nurses' Group

The newly formed Education Committee of District 11, Nurses' Association, met with the Board of Directors at the home of Mrs. Marguerite Mahoney, president of the Association, on February 9. The committee interpreted its objectives and plans for the future of the board. Plans were made for a meeting of the committee on February 15. At that time the group will formulate a specific scheme prior to a Tri-District meeting in Newburgh.

The Newburgh meeting at Mt. St. Mary's College is designed to include discussion in relation to forming a community planning committee to study regional nursing needs and ways of meeting them educationally. This is the first time that District numbers 11, 12 and 18 nursing associations have worked together jointly. It is hopeful that this Mid-Hudson Area group will profit by this joint working association.

Members of the Education Committee include Sister Gabrielle, chairman and instructor at Benedictine Hospiteal School of Nursing; Mrs. Marguerite Mahoney, president of District 11; Mrs. Florence Anderson, Assistant Educational Director of Kingston Hospital School of Nursing; Miss Helen Geneis, Director of Ulster County Public Health Nursing and Mrs. Barbara Marck, staff nurse at Benedictine Hospital.

AAUW Planning Session Tuesday; Meeting at YWCA

The monthly meeting of the Kingston Branch of the American Association of University Women will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 14 at the YWCA at 8 p. m. In lieu of the usual monthly meeting the Tuesday session will be a planning session. The program will encompass three working committees, the nominating committee, the program committee, and the policy sheet committee.

The nominating committee, with Virginia M. Donahue as chairman, will discuss possible candidates for the offices of president, first vice president, and recording secretary. The policy committee, with Frances A. Carducci as chairman, will set up workshops for the four new topics selected by National for the coming year. The policy sheet committee with Mrs. Fred Brammer as chairman, will endeavor to establish firm policies to facilitate the governing of the board.

The membership is urged to attend and elect to participate in a committee of their choice. The Kingston Branch of AAUW, in commemorating the First Constitutional Convention held a hundred years ago in Kingston, urges its membership to attend the AAUW Legislative Day Program, on March 4 in Poughkeepsie. Reservations will be accepted at Tuesday's meeting. The hostess for the February meeting will be Mrs. Hannah Craft.

GOP Women Attend Albany Conference

Mrs. Raymond LeFever, county vice chairman, Mrs. LeRoy Croswell, president, Women's Republican Club, Mrs. Thomas Hanrahan and Mrs. Bernhardt Kramer represented the Ulster County Women's Republican Club at the annual legislative conference of the Federation of Women's Republican Clubs of New York State held in Albany on February 5 and 6.

Of the more than 600 women gathered from all over the state, Ulster County had four delegates and others attending the conference. The State Federation which started with two clubs in 1937, is now the parent body for more than 425 clubs and has a membership of more than 70,000 women.

Highlights of the two-day meeting included panel discussions emphasizing the woman's way in getting out the vote last November, and projects for the future. In addition to recapping past accomplishments, the Hon. Robert M. Quigley of Phelps addressed the group on the forthcoming Constitutional Convention, and the important role women play in shaping their government at every level.

The guest of honor at Monday's luncheon, and main speaker was Mrs. Dorothy Elston, president of the National Federation of Republican Women who pinch-hitted for Mrs. Gladys O'Donnell of Long Beach, Cal. Mrs. O'Donnell, long a popular figure in California and National Republican circles, is a candidate for the office of president of the National Federation of Women's Republican Clubs.

Other festivities included a tea at the Executive Mansion hosted by Gov. and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller. A gala reception hosted by Mrs. Wilma Rogalin, federation president and her officers, honored the Governor and Lt. Governor and Attorney General and many Republican legislators and their wives. A parting banquet was held Monday evening for 600 people.

Mrs. Raymond LeFever, vice-chairman of the county committee attended an executive board meeting of the federation Sunday, before the conference began.

Area Students on Dean's List

Two students from the Kingston area have been named to the fall quarter deans' list at Rochester Institute of Technology according to Dr. Leo F. Smith, vice president of Academic Administration.

They are: Frank Hermance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hermance of Bloomingdale Road, Tillson, a first year student in the School of Electrical Engineering; Russell Jay Shapiro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shapiro of Main Street, Saugerties, a fourth year student in the School of Retailing.

Democratic Men's Club

The first meeting of the Kingston City Democratic Men's Club of 1967 will be held Thursday 8 p. m. in the American Legion Memorial Building, 18 West O'Reilly Street, Kingston.

All members are asked to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Doing The Right Thing By Elizabeth Post

ELIZABETH L. POST of the Emily Post Institute

PLEASE DON'T EAT THE ROSE PETALS!

Dear Mrs. Post: I recently inherited eight beautiful crystal finger bowls and I would like to know the proper way to handle them. They are used so rarely these days that many people have never seen one. — Mrs. H. O'Brien.

Dear Mrs. O'Brien: Finger bowls filled with warm water are brought to the table on the dessert plate. A small lace or paper doily is placed under them and both are lifted off by the diner and set on the table above the place setting. When the dessert is finished, the tips of the fingers are dipped in the water and dried on the napkin. If lips are greasy a little water may be rubbed on them, too, with the fingers. There may or may not be flowers, petals or little ornaments floating in the water.

This question reminds me of a delightful story, told about herself by one of my daughter's friends. She was invited for the first time to a dinner at her boy friend's home. She was somewhat nervous about it because she knew that his family was wealthier and lived on a grander scale than her own. Naturally, she wished to make a good impression so she decided to watch carefully and simply copy other guests if she had any problems. Everything went beautifully through the entree: she chose the right silver, broke her bread before buttering it, and served herself impeccably. Then came the dessert — she thought! A pretty bowl of clear liquid with bits of pink icing or pastry floating in it. Flushed with her success until then, she forgot to look around her, picked up her spoon, and proceeded to eat the rose petals that were floating in her finger bowl!

Fortunately, her sense of humor and the kindness of her boy friend's family carried her through, and the couple are soon to be married!

Many entertaining things of this nature happen to all of us. We cannot know (and we'd be terribly dull if we did) every rule in the book of Etiquette. If we can laugh at ourselves and learn by our experiences we will profit, not suffer, from them. If any of you readers have had experiences similar to this young lady's, I wish you would write to me about them. I would love to share them with other readers, not only for amusement but for education.

WE THE WOMEN
Our Success Mean Little If Family Life Disintegrates

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

She is 25 years old. Her family lives in a state some 1,000 miles distant from the eastern city where she lives and works. Two of her closest friends recently have been committed to mental institutions. I said to her:

"Why don't you take your vacation now and go home for a little rest? It's been very rough on you having to watch Nora and Louise going to pieces right in front of your eyes and not being able to get through to them. Don't you think you could do with a little restoration yourself? You've been through two very exhausting experiences."

"My parent's home isn't the place to get restored," she said. "My family and I just don't speak the same language. I can stand being around it for two days—and that's it. No, going home is not the answer. My boy friend thinks that I should take some LSD in order to get a better understanding of what Nora and Louise have been going through."

Is the American family on its way out? Is this girl's emotional isolation from her parents, her sister and brother typical of young people's attitude toward their homes—or isn't it? These are questions raised by Dr. Nathan W. Ackerman, clinical professor of psychiatry at Columbia University. He raises them in a new book, "Treating the Troubled Family," which uses reports of joint psychotherapy sessions with parents and children to illustrate exactly the kind of family breakdown of which my young friend is another victim.

Dr. Ackerman answers his own questions with the flat declaration:

"Family relationships are out of kilter. The social disorders within the modern family magnify the vulnerability of its members to mental illness."

Does his profession as a psychiatrist make his judgment inaccurate by limiting his experience to ailing families? Does my work give me an unreliable perspective on the family, involving me as it does with so many disgruntled, family - detached young people? Because I agree with Dr. Ackerman, I, too, think that family relationships are most seriously disordered. Are we wrong or are we right? Is our pessimism justified or isn't it? Who is to know? But somebody in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare just might make it his business to find out.

Victory in the Vietnam war, command of the moon, a bigger gross national product, this affluent society and all the rest of our political and economic strivings aren't going to matter much if the American family disintegrates into lost and abandoned pieces.

Mrs. Lawrence welcomes letters from readers but because of the volume of mail she cannot answers all letters personally. Questions of general interest will be discussed in the column.

St. Peter's Mothers' Club

The regular meeting of the Mothers' Club of St. Peter's School was held Wednesday, Feb. 8 in the school hall. It was decided to have special lunches for the children on the Fridays of each month following the meeting dates.

Tickets for the annual communion breakfast to be held Sunday, March 12, in St. Peter's School Hall after the 8 o'clock Mass, may be obtained from Mrs. Robert Scherer, chairman, or any of her committee, the Mmes. Joseph Groppuso, John Boyle or Eugene Loughlin.

It was announced that Mrs. Leo Schupp will be chairman of the Penny Social planned for the month of May.

In accordance with tradition, two Seventh Grade mothers, Mrs. John Dittus and Mrs. John Chase, will be co-chairmen for the graduation communion breakfast to be held in June.

After the March meeting, Mrs. Jean DeLuca will conduct a hat show.

Dear Abby . . .
Baby 'Mix-Up' Not Impossible

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I hope you can put my mind at ease and help me with a problem no one else seems willing to help me with.

I would like very much to have my son's footprints taken again to compare them with the ones taken at the hospital where he was born. I am not saying for sure that he is not my own child, but I keep thinking that somewhere along the line they could have mixed up my baby with someone else's.

My son is a year old now, and it still bothers me.

I have contacted the hospital where he was born, asking if they would take another set of footprints for comparison now, and they laughed at me and said this was never done. Someone suggested I hire a lawyer. What for? I don't want to sue anyone. I just want to be sure they gave me the right baby. TROUBLED MIND

DEAR TROUBLED: Your request does not strike me as being so outlandish. Discuss this with your family doctor. He will not laugh at you. Even tho your fears are probably unfounded, the proof you seek is not difficult to obtain.

Your peace of mind is what is important now.

P. S.: Lawyers are "hired" for reasons other than "suing" — they advise one of his legal rights.

DEAR ABBY: First I want to tell you that I have not missed reading a single one of your columns since it started to run in our newspaper. When I go on vacations, I leave instructions with my housekeeper to cut out all the DEAR Abby's and save them for me. I only tell you this so you will know how much I respect your advice.

Now for my question: I would like to have your thinking on some extremely important matters, both social and business, but this must be strictly confidential. I don't want any of your secretaries reading my letters.

If I send you the money, will you please rent a post office box to receive my letters. I would like to be assured of absolute privacy. Thank you. STRICTLY BETWEEN US

DEAR STRICTLY: Save your money. Send your letters via the regular channels, and mark them "CONFIDENTIAL," and you shall have the privacy you seek.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been married for 22 happy years. Our children are in college, which accounts for my wife's being permanently employed.

Last month her boss sent her to Atlantic City for a convention. This is the first time she's ever been out of town without me. She is very attractive and looks younger than her age.

When she returned she told me that the convention included many social affairs, and one evening she went to cocktails and supper with a man she had casually met there. I am sure nothing wrong took place, but I am deeply hurt by what I consider to be indiscreet conduct for a married woman. I am sure there were plenty of unattached women she could have gone with. I would like your opinion. OLD FASHIONED

DEAR OLD FASHIONED: Before forming negative opinions, talk it over with your wife and determine if she feels her conduct was "indiscreet." Then reevaluate your judgement.

• • • •

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MIXED UP" IN BINGHAMTON: He may be "brilliant," but ask an outsider. No one can offer objective advice about a problem when he is part of the problem.

Old Dutch Church

REV. ROBERT HESS

This Thursday at 6:30, Old Dutch Church starts the first of its Lenten dinners with an interesting and dynamic subject, The New Morality. The Rev. Robert Hess, a former seminary associate and now minister at Flatbush Reformed Church, will speak on the basic background of situational ethics which lies behind The New Morality. The Rev. Mr. Hess, who received his masters of theology degree at Edinburgh, Scotland, became interested in this topic for the ministers and priest seminar this past fall at Holy Cross Monastery. The Rev. Mr. Hess has been asked to speak at various times on situational ethics throughout the Kingston area.

During the talk, entertainment will also be provided upstairs for the younger kids, and a creche will be available for infants and toddlers. Reservations may be made by calling the Old Dutch Church Office on or before Wednesday noon, Feb. 15.

Route 209 Collision

Two cars collided on Route 209 at Napanoch Monday afternoon about 2:45 o'clock when one of the vehicles pulled across the highway to a gas station. Frank Dierfelter, 67, of Napanoch, was issued a summons by Trooper John Huntoon of the Ellenville sub-station for failure to yield the right-of-way. A car operated north on Route 209 at Napanoch by C. N. Phillips, 34, of Accord, and the Dierfelter car were in collision when, the trooper charged, the Dierfelter car crossed the road at the gas station. No injuries were reported.

North Carolina was the first state to have a compulsory vaccination law.

Midweek Lenten Services

Throughout Lent midweek services are being conducted at area churches. A partial listing follows:

Uptown Churches

BISHOP L. C. WICKE

Bishop Lloyd C. Wicke, resident bishop of the Methodist Church of the New York Area, will be the guest preacher at the Fair Street Reformed Church Wednesday 7:30 p. m. as the Fair Street Church and the St. James Methodist Church join in the second in their series of Lenten mid-week services and suppers.

The Men's Club of the Fair Street Church will be the official hosts for the covered dish supper for both congregations at 6:30 p. m. Between the supper and the program the congregations will be led in a brief hymn sing by Percy Gazlay, the director of music at Fair Street. He will be assisted at the piano by Robert H. Palmatier, director of music at the St. James Church.

A general invitation has been extended to the public to attend the service by the two pastors, he Rev. C. Pershing Hunter and the Rev. Edwin C. Coon.

The Lenten series has been planned around an ecumenical theme with the title, Where Are the Churches Going? Bishop Wicke is well prepared for this subject since he is chairman of the Methodist commission on ecumenical affairs and has been chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee concerned with the merger of the Evangelical United Brethren Church and the Methodist Church, which was voted by their respective General Conferences last November in Chicago. The local conferences are now in the process of voting and with a two-thirds majority vote, union will be consumated in Dallas in 1968.

Bishop Wicke has also been meeting informally with leaders of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion, and the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church looking towards cooperation and union. The above three churches represent over two million members.

Bishop Wicke is president of the World Division of the Board of Missions of The Methodist Church, vice president of the Board of Evangelism and vice president of the Methodist Televison, Radio and Film Commission. He was chairman of the Board of Christian Social Concerns when the Church Center at the United Nations was built. This center houses most church groups that have offices and departments in consultation with the work of the United Nations.

Bishop Wicke earned his PhD and his BD at Drew University, Madison, N. J., and has received honorary degrees from several institutions. He is married to the former Gertrude Allen of Waterville. They reside in Greenich, Conn. His area of supervision include Long Island, Staten Island, New York on either side of the Hudson all the way to Canada, the state of Vermont and two-thirds of the state of Connecticut.

Washington has the only large coal deposits of any of the Pacific states.

Redeemer Lutheran

The second in the current series of Wednesday evening Lenten services will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Wurts and Rogers Streets.

The order for vespers will be by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. David C. Gaise. The meditation will be one of a series on Profiles of the Passion and will be given by the Vicar James E. Townsend on the topic, Profile in Denial — Peter.

Traditional Lenten hymns and an anthem will be part of the devotional material under the leadership of the choir with Leonard Stine directing accompanied by Mrs. William E. Rylance at the organ. The lessons from the account of Christ's passion will be read and a penitential psalm will be used.

After the services a fellowship period will be held in the assembly room with coffee and unstructured discussion about the Christian faith. The choir will rehearse at the same time.

St. Paul's Lutheran

The second midweek Lenten service will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 355 Hasbrouck Avenue, Wednesday 7:30 p. m. A musical program has been prepared by Mrs. Al Bagatta, choir director and will be offered by the senior choir. The pastor, the Rev. Roy D. Meyer, will deliver the sermon, the second in a series of Words to the Cross entitled, He Can Not Save Himself. The Passion Narrative of Christ, dealing with the Last Supper and Gethsemane will be read during the service.

Trinity Methodist

At Trinity Methodist Church, the pastor the Rev. Richard R. Guice will lead a Lenten study of James and Peter, Christians Being and Doing at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Persons coming at 11 a. m. will bring a sandwich lunch, coffee and tea provided. The purpose of the study is to relate Biblical truth to today's situations. The study is open to all persons in the parish and community. The study groups will meet in the Assembly Room.

Trinity Lutheran

At Trinity Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone Streets, the Rev. John H. Frenssen, pastor, a midweek Lenten service is scheduled for Wednesday 7:30 p. m. The topic of the Rev. Mr. Frenssen's Lenten message will be Trial by Fire.

A program of Lenten music will be presented by Dr. John F. Park, organist and choirmaster, and will include a selection by the senior church choir. Immediately following the service a choir rehearsal will be held.

Immanuel Lutheran

Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, Livingston Street, will conduct the second Lenten service Wednesday night at 7:30, when the subject will be: Indicted by the Church, on the general theme, The Trial of Jesus Christ.

At this service the church will again hear the Passion History of Lord Jesus Christ according to the four Gospels. Portions of this will be read at every Lenten service.

Hadassah Board Meeting

Board members of the Hadassah Chapter of Kingston met Feb. 6 at the home of Mrs. M. Lipton. Mrs. A. Landesman, president, presided. Present were Mrs. Lipton, Mrs. G. Starkman, Mrs. A. London, Mrs. H. Newman, Mrs. G. Strauss, and Mrs. A. Motzkin.

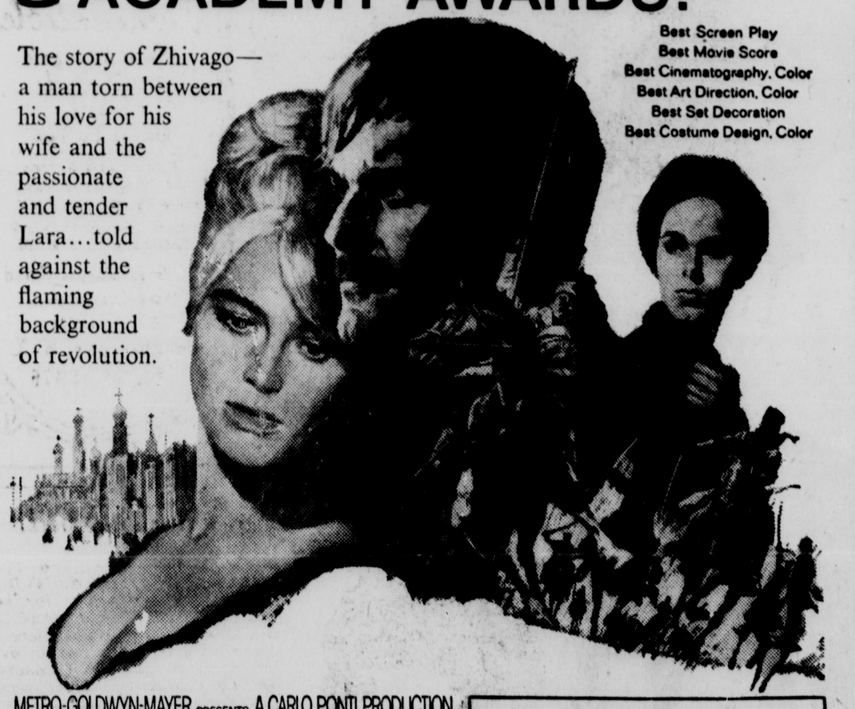

The annual spring conference sponsored by the Lower New York State Region will be held at Kutsher's Country Club in Monticello on May 15-17. Mrs. H. Gertner will accept reservations.

Some future dates of note were mentioned: the March meeting will be held on the 20th and will include Youth Aliyah presentations, special awards, Life Membership installations and a guest speaker.

The New and Nearly New Shop will be open from April 10 to 14 and will be chaired by Mrs. H. Newman and Mrs. C. Jacobs. Ad Page Day will be April 8, chairman, Mrs. W. Meyer, and June 4 is Donor Day.

This month's meeting will be held on Feb. 15 and will be a Weight-Watcher Luncheon and Card Party to be held in Temple Emanuel at 12 o'clock. Mrs. S. Pauker is the chairman.

CONSIDERING A NEWSPAPER CAREER?

The newspaper is no place for someone who likes it soft. Newspaper work is hard and challenging, intellectually and physically.

But there are rewards—good financial rewards and other rewards, too.

The newspaperman knows he contributes to keeping people informed, and no society can remain free without information.

He helps his newspaper mirror the community's thinking, and a society must exchange its best thoughts to motivate its highest achievements.

He and his newspaper provide businessmen with an unparalleled way for telling the community about their products and services, and a free marketplace cannot exist without news of the marketplace.

If you think these things are worth working for, write for a free booklet on newspaper careers to Newspaper Information Service, American Newspaper Publishers Association, 750 Third Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Expect Test Shot With Organisms Will Land Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spacecraft full of insects and other organisms is expected to come back to earth tonight or Wednesday — more than eight weeks late.

"We think that most everything has died," a National Aeronautics and Space Administratin spokesman said Monday night.

Carried 280 Pounds

When it shot aloft from Cape Kennedy Dec. 14, the spacecraft carried a 280-pound experiment capsule which housed wasps, flour beetles, fruit flies, bacteria, frog eggs and assorted plant specimens, each in separate compartments with built-in food supplies and warming devices.

Biosatellite, as it was dubbed, was supposed to come down again in three days so that scientists could see how all the living things were affected by the trip. Things didn't work out that way.

Its braking rocket refused to fire and the spacecraft, with food and oxygen supplies rapidly diminishing, kept making erratic orbits of the earth.

NASA has been tracking the runaway and noting its progressively lower path. Sometime during a 12-hour period starting at 10 p.m. today, space agency spokesmen said, it will slip back into the atmosphere and quickly come back to earth.

Biosatellite's battery may have sufficient reserves after the long flight to set in motion re-entry equipment, including a parachute for a soft landing, a radio beacon signal and a flashing light.

The signal devices would be helpful because no one can say where in the world the flying laboratory will come down. Air Force units around the globe have been alerted to stand by and assist in recovery.

NASA said a tungsten steel material is tough enough to withstand the shock of landing even if the parachute system fails.

"So long as the radiation source remains inside the sphere, the danger is negligible," NASA said.

Prove Air Fall

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police searched for evidence today that a young Mexican stowaway, huddling inside the wheel well of an airliner, fell to his death from 5,000 feet.

The crushed body of Humberto Garcia Gutierrez, about 17, of Chihuahua, Mexico was found Monday on an empty school playground.

Investigators said the youth apparently stowed away before the airliner left Mexico City and fell when the wheels were lowered for landing at Los Angeles International Airport. The task of checking for evidence became more difficult as airliners departed later in the day.

Police said Gutierrez may have died from lack of oxygen or the cold prior to the plunge since the wheel wells are not pressurized or heated.

Bills Introduced In Legislature

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Two measures that would permit the assignment of insurance in high-risk property areas were under consideration today in the Senate.

The bills gained Assembly approval Monday after several Democratic legislators complained of the difficulty of obtaining insurance policies on property in run-down sections.

Assemblyman Kenneth N. Browne, D - Queens, sponsored the bills that would permit the superintendent of insurance to authorize the assigned-risk insurance for liability and fire policies.

The plan is similar to one now in effect for motorists in which policies for so-called high-risk drivers are assigned to various insurance companies from a pool.

In another legislative action Monday, the Assembly approved a bill, over solid Republican opposition, that would require employers to post deposits when appealing claims for unemployment insurance benefits.

The measure would require an employer to post a $10 deposit to contest an initial application for unemployment insurance. The employer also would have to post a $25 deposit to appeal a decision granting the unemployment payments.

Employer groups are opposed to the measure. They contend it is harrassment and does not serve to cut down on the number of appeals.

Labor groups favor the measure on the ground that the deposit would prevent employers from appealing cases without reason.

Employers pay the full amount for unemployment insurance.

Freshman Assemblyman Gordon K. Cameron, D-Cornwall-on-Hudson, scored his first legislative victory, gaining approval of a measure that would permit persons 65 and over to obtain free small - game hunting and fishing licenses. The present law limits free licenses to persons over 70.

Pastor Scores Social Welfare Plan in Congress

The following is an open letter addressed to Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick by the Rev. Richard E. Lake, pastor of the Bloomingdale Reformed Church of Bloomington and his wife, Patricia.

Dear Mr. Congressman,

After having just finished figuring our Federal Income tax, we heard your statement of February 4 concerning social legislation.

We are registered Democrats concerned about social welfare as well as our own. But we are beginning to wonder how increased aid to welfare is affecting those in the middle and low middle income brackets. How can self-employed persons, in particular, afford to stay self-employed?

Did you know that in Ulster County the average income is $5,746 in 1959 and it is doubtful that it could have risen appreciably? And according to the 1960 U. S. Census there are 6,049 self-employed in Ulster County. The combined tax for a family of 4 and the self-employment tax is $778. This leaves less than $5,000 to shelter, clothe and feed the family.

If Social Security taxes are increased to any extent a family like this would be forced to give up their business or occupation or to seek welfare assistance.

This country was founded on the worth and integrity of the individual. But such increases in "social welfare legislation" are making it exceedingly difficult to remain independent.

Do we have to pay an extra penalty for being self-employed? Do we have fewer rights than the poor, the minority groups, the culturally deprived? Do we have to constantly beat ourselves because we are not on welfare? Because we, above the low income group and below the middle, do not want to apologize for our education, our ambitions, and our goals, must we surrender all we have? Must we become respectable poor people — well cared for by "Big Brother Social Legislation?"

You are forcing us to become disenchanted liberals — or reactionary conservatives—with all your pious mouthings about concern for people. We can no longer afford to be liberal Democrats; our income doesn't allow it.

Then take a good hard look at what each piece of "social legislation" will do to the average family in your district—the families in the $4,000-$5,500 range. Consider not only their future financial security but their integrity as independent Americans now. And if you're in doubt—ask! Ask business men! Ask a self-employed carpenter, plumber or farmer! Ask a local family doctor! Ask a clergyman in one of the small local parishes! Ask particular families in the low middle income bracket!

Do you know any of these people?

Yours truly,
REV. RICHARD E. LAKE

Notes Found Add Inventions to Da Vinci Credit

By JAMES F. DONOHUE

BOSTON (AP) — A scholar says two lost manuscripts of Leonardo da Vinci discovered in Spain may result in several inventions being attributed to the Italian master for the first time.

Dr. Ladislao Reti of the Elmer Belt Library of Vinciana of the University of California at Los Angeles told a news conference Monday:

Until now we had only 5,000 pages of Da Vinci in the world. These manuscripts contain 700 pages, so this adds about one-sixth to what we have of the master."

The discovery was announced at the news conference by Dr. Jules Piccus, professor of romance languages at the University of Massachusetts, who said he found the works in the National Library of Madrid, Spain.

Reti, an expert on Da Vinci's scientific works, said the manuscripts were produced between 1491 and 1505 and contain notes and 200 drawings.

"We feel that these manuscripts will result in several new inventions being attributed to Da Vinci," Reti said. "For example, the chain drive like that on bicycles. We first know of this in the 18th century, but careful drawings of the chain drive appear on these pages.

"And there are drawings of a corn mill with an automatic sifter machine which we first know of from the 16th century. There are many other examples of early automation."

Piccus said he was making a "systematic search for Spanish medieval poetry" when he came upon the works.

Piccus asked Reti to authenticate the manuscripts. This was completed two weeks ago, he said.

Reti said the writing in the manuscripts is backward and can be read only in a mirror. "Only Da Vinci did that sort of writing in that way," Dr. Reti said, "and it cannot be forged."

Choose With Care the Tax-Form That Fits Your Needs, It Pays

EDITOR'S NOTE — It's important that federal income taxpayers use the tax return form that fits their situation and income. This article, the second of five, explains that point and several other procedures.

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are two basic forms for filing your 1966 income tax return, 1040, which anyone can use; and a simpler one, 1040A, the punchcard, which only those fitting certain conditions can use.

If your taxable income last year was $10,000 or more, you have no choice. You must use 1040. And, if it was under 10,000, you can use 1040A only if:

Your income was entirely from wages reported on W2 withholding statements or consisted of such wages, plus not more than $200 in dividends and interest and wages from which tax was not withheld.

Otherwise, even though your income was under $10,000, you must ue 1040.

And — anyone with $5,000 or more income must figure his own tax from the tax-rate schedule in the instruction sheet which the Internal Revenue Service sends all taxpayers.

If your income was under $5,000 you can find your tax, without figuring it, in the tax-table but only if you are willing to accept the standard deduction allowed taxpayers for personal expenses.

If your expenses were more than the standard deduction gives you, you can claim them in full but in that case you must itemize them all to get credit for them.

Also, you must use 1040 if you are a single person claiming to be "head of household" or a widow or widower claiming to be a "surviving spouse" or if you claim credit for retirement income or exclusion for sick pay or if you paid an estimated tax in 1966 or claim travel, transportation, moving or other expenses.

There are two kinds of standard deduction, the 10 per cent standard and the minimum standard.

The 10 per cent standard means that, without itemizing or needing to prove anything about your deductible expenses, you get 10 per cent off your income, up to a limit of $1,000. The limit is $500 each for married persons filing separately.

With the minimum standard deduction you deduct $300 for yourself, $100 for each dependent, and $100 for your wife if she files jointly with you or, having no income, she fails to file jointly with you but is claimed as an exemption on your return.

If you have doubts about which to use, try them both before deciding. Here are some examples of benefits and disadvantages:

Jones has a wife, four children, and his 1966 income was $6,000. Under the 10 per cent standard deduction he could knock $600 off his income for personal expenses.

But suppose he used the minimum standard. He'd take $300 for himself, $100 for each of his four dependent children, and $100 for his wife who had no income but was filing jointly with him. This gave him a total deduction of $800, which was $200 more than the 10 per cent standard gave him.

Now take Smith, with a wife, one child. He also had $6,000 income. He'd get a $600 deduction under the 10 per cent standard arrangement, which would be a lot better in his case than if he took the minimum standard.

This is why: Under the minimum standard he'd get $300 for himself, $100 for his wife who had no income but, like Mrs. Jones, filed jointly with her husband; and $100 for his child, or a total deduction of only $500.

When a couple files separate returns, if one uses the 10 per cent standard deduction, both must use it; if one uses the minimum standard, both must; if one itemizes deductions, both must.

Deduction Reduced

And when a husband and wife file separate returns, using the minimum standard deduction, each gets a deduction of only $200, plus $100 for each dependent each can rightfully claim.

That instruction sheet which the IRS sends taxpayers has three tax tables for those under-$5,000 people permitted to use the table and three tax-rate schedules for those who must figure their own tax.

Their problems will be explained in No. 3 in this series.

In tables A and B there is no choice between the 10 per cent standard deduction and the minimum standard deduction. The government has considered both and provided the lowest tax in both those tables.

Note that married couples filing jointly, and using table B, usually get the same or a lower tax than married couples filing separately and using table C. But in table C there is a choice for those using it between the 10 per cent standard deduction and the minimum standard deduction.

Differences Figured

But, of course, the differences between them are already provided for in the table without any work on your part. The only time you'd have to work out the differences is when, and if, you decided to figure your own tax, using form 1000.

Also note this: The three tax-rate schedules, used by those figuring their own tax, do not parallel the three tax tables.

For example:

Schedule No. 1 is for single persons and married persons filing separately; No. 2 is for married couples filing jointly and for those qualifying as "surviving spouse"; and No. 3 is for the unmarried or legally separated who can qualify as "head of household."

Bill Introduced To Outlaw Cons' Gambling Casino

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — The bull pen, Nevada's answer to gambling in prison, may be on its way out.

Close and five other assemblymen entered a bill Monday to outlaw the bull pen. Close said he has enough support to push it through the assembly.

A prison report issued under Republican Gov. Paul Laxalt's predecessor, former Gov. Grant Sawyer, a Democrat, had this to say:

"Employes (prisoners) in the casino are carefully screened by an administrative committee prior to being granted permission to operate the diverse games of chance functioning within the casino.

"Incidents of cheating and malpractice in the running of these activities are nonexistent. Most inmates, regardless of background in such activity are meticulously fair and honest."

But Close said: "Very few people at the prison have any money. And the little bit they do have is taken from them through the bull pen.

"So the worst guys we've got in prison are the ones who are allowed to gamble," he said.

A Job or a Career?

Too often the person who lives from pay check to pay check gets "boxed in" by a job of limited opportunity. He envies the breaks which enable others to take time for learning new skills, to prepare themselves for the better jobs or perhaps to start their own businesses. Upon closer examination, it is usually found that these people make their own "breaks" — often by saving regularly toward a goal. Deposit a portion of each pay check at Kingston Savings Bank until you have a savings balance equal to at least six month's income. Then you'll worry less about illness or layoffs. You will be able to take time off for retraining if you want to. You will be in control of your career. You'll enjoy life more.

National Cross Country skiing champion Michael Gallagher of Killington, Vt. won a decisive victory in the New York State Cross Country Skiing Championships sponsored by the Rosendale Nordic Ski Club.

Gallagher, who represented the Killington Ski Club, covered 12 kilometers of the two-lap course in 42 minutes 19 seconds to finish about a half kilometer ahead of Charles Kellog of Andover, Mass., a former National Biathlon Champion.

Raimo Ahti of the Finnish Ski Club of Fitchburg, Mass. and a former two-time National Cross Country champion, had a bad fall at the end of the supreme test downhill segment of the woodland trail which cost him more than a minute. He came in third in 45:43 behind Kellogg's 44:40.

William Wells, North Adams, Mass. placed fourth in 48:06, with Spencer Jackson of Hoosic, N. Y., fifth at 50:42.

The temperature stayed in the low 20's during the entire race to the delight of the 60 competitors who had no difficulty in selecting the proper wax for the gruelling grind. Blu Klister was the popular choice of the runners.

Charles Eriksson, Dartmouth College varsity runner, edged Pete Davis of New England College, Henniker, N. H. by racing the 21 kilometer course in 47:45 to Davis's 48:13, a separation of about 125 meters. Steve Williams of Dartmouth College took third in Class B in 49:25 and Birger Visgnes, Roskasay, New Jersey Phys Ed instructor and member of the Rosendale Nordics placed, fifth.

Aanon Habesland, skiing for the Bear Mountain S. C., became the new New York State Veteran Champ by an easy victory of Sam Ouellet, 62 year old veteran of the Abanki Ski Club of Chidholm, Maine.

Sara Mae Berman Repeats

Sara Mae Berman of the Metropolitan Athletic Club of Cambridge, Mass successfully defended the New York State Championship she won last year by an easy victory over Jill Kellogg of the Lebanon, New Hampshire, Outing Club. Mrs. Berman, a mother of 3 children, raced the 5 kilometer course in 25:22 which is just a shade short of the criteria for Olympic consideration.

America has never entered a woman in Olympic Cross Country competition simply because we've never had a candidate who could even remotely qualify to match strides with the Norwegian, Finnish, Swedish and Russian girls. Joan Molica, 17 year old lass skiing for the Mt. Anthony High School of Bennington, Vermont raced the same course in 26:45 to take first place for Class I Junior girls.

Jan Wikoff of the Northwood School in Lake Placid romped home an easy winner in the Class I boys 6 kilometer race in 26:45 to top Jack Branchaud, Rutland, Vermont High School, who ran in 29:00. Gary Mulligan of the Rosendale Nordics placed 6th.

Rondout Valley Wrestling Tourney Draws Six Schools

Six schools will participate in the Independent League wrestling tournament Saturday at Rondout Valley Central School.

Scheduled to take part are Ellenville, Fallsburg, Monticello, Onteora, Wallkill and the host school.

Wrestling will be contested in 12 weight classes and will get underway at 10 a. m. with the quarter-final round. Semi-finals will commence at noon and the finals in each class will be held at 2 p. m.

Ellenville, Onteora and Rondout are pre-tournament choices for the team championship while the other schools will have strong contenders in individual weight classes.

The 12 champions will represent the Independent League at the Section Nine tournament Saturday, Feb. 25 in Suffern. Sectional winners will take part in the Intersectionals on Saturday, March 4 at Niagara.

Snowmobile Champ

LAKEVIELD, Ont. (AP) — Bob Eastman of Rosseau, Minn., won the seven-lap final speed race Sunday to claim the over - all international snowmobile championship. Tom Hall of Tupper Lake, N.Y., won the slalom.

Roderick and Schneider Place At Salisbury

Handicapped by a poor first jump of 138 feet, Robert Roderick of Rosendale Nordic Ski Club placed fifth in the Class B division of the Eastern ski jumping championships at Salisbury, Conn.

Roderick leaped 168 feet, best of the second tries, for a total of 149.3 points. Winner was David Pope of St. Lawrence (173-166) with 170.5 points.

Rosendale's Duke Schneider was fourth in the Nordic Combined with 390.8 points. He had 217-2 cross country points and 173.6 in jumping.

Leif Bringslimark of Congers racked up 422 points to capture the Nordic.

Billy Rand Jr. of Northwood School at Lake Placid captured his second straight Class A jump title with 222.7 points. Rand had jumps of 196 and 208 feet. The latter tied the hill mark set by Hemmo Silvennoinen in 1961.

Air Force, Navy Bobsled Leaders

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP)—An Air Force and a Navy team hold first and third place honors respectively in the Adirondack AAU bobsled championships at Mount Van Hoevenberg.

Jim Hickey was the driver of the winning four-man team Sunday, which completed four one-mile runs in a total time of 4:56.9. Chuck Timm was brake, and Bill Dodds and Joe Doherty were riders.

The Lake Placid bobsled club took second place in 4:57.9, and the Navy team earned third place in 5:00.2.

Wilt Rips 58 Points

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —Coach Alex Hannum says his Philadelphia 76ers aren't hearing any footsteps.

"I expect to win the Eastern Division by at least five games," Hannum said Monday night after the 76ers snapped a two-game losing streak by defeating Cincinnati 131-123 in a National Basketball Association game as Wilt Chamberlain led the way with 58 points.

Hannum refused to even worry about a schedule which has his team playing 14 of its last 19 games on the road.

"Nuts to the schedule," Hannum exclaimed. "We have worked all season long to get six games ahead of Boston by good play on the floor. That's the way we'll stay there. I don't care whether the games are at the home or on the road. "We'll win it."

The 76ers' coach bristled when it was suggested that his team has been in a slight slump. The 76ers have lost six of their last 13 games, as compared to a 46-4 record when the slide began.

Hannum was extremely pleased with Chamberlain's 58-point performance. He collected 26 field goals and six free throws to set a new 1966-67 individual season high. Rick Barry's 57 for San Francisco last October was the previous high.

"I'm happy to see Wilt offensive-minded," Hannum said of Chamberlain, who most of the season has sacrificed his scoring prowess to concentrate on team play.

Chamberlain was devastating in his one-man show against the Royals Monday night, driving toward the hoop with his patented dunk shot. It was the 113th time in his pro career that he had topped the 50-point mark in regular season play.

Jerry Lucas drilled in 29 points to pace the Cincinnati attack. Adrian Smith added 24 and Oscar Robertson 23.

Schoneman, New Area Tenpin Star, Inherits Family Bowling Skills

Robert Schoneman, a 5-foot-11, 225-pound import from Utica, N. Y. is one of the new sensations of the 1966-67 season in Kingston.

From a full finger tip grip and the conventional four step delivery, he explodes a short, sharp breaking hook that is producing solid 190 averages in three leagues.

Schoneman is batting 192 in the Independent Tavern and International leagues. His best mark of 194 is in the Invitational Classic, generally regarded as the premier circuit in the city.

Big Bob has done better. He achieved a 199 average in the Palace All Star league in Utica during the 1964-65 season but slumped to 187 a year ago. He boasts a career high of 727 and his local "700" was the fourth in his 11-year career. His top game is 279.

Inherits His Skill

Schoneman inherits bowling skill from his father, Ken Schoneman, who rolled his way into the Albany Bowling Association's Hall of Fame before moving to Utica as an official of American Telephone and Telegraph. The elder Schoneman is a solid 190 average bowler.

Schoneman's older brother, Ken Schoneman Jr. is a 200 average performer with a career high 804 in Utica.

The Schoneman family will be reunited for the New York State championships at Syracuse next spring.

"Ken and I always roll with dad in the state tournament," said Schoneman. "I also plan to compete in the KBA tournament but did not enter the ABC at Miami."

Employed in the long lines division of A.T.&T. at Maple Hill, Schoneman is currently involved in a special study course in Albany.

"I like bowling here and hope to be around for a while," he said. The feeling is reciprocated by Kingston bowlers who find Schoneman a bright addition to the local tenpin scene.

The young star and his bride of a year reside at Sawkill Trailer Park. The first addition to the family is due soon.

Mazeroski, Krause Win Astrojet Title

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A guy who doesn't know how to mark his ball on the green and one who doesn't know how to keep score are winners of the $30,000 American Airlines' Astrojet Golf Classic.

Bill Mazeroski of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Paul Krause of the Washington Redskins came up with a 32-29—61 Sunday to take the 54-hole partner, best-ball event for baseball and football players. Their winning total was 185.

Mazerowski, a second baseman, and Krause, a defensive back, were not heavy favorites in the event. Neither has ever had a golf lesson. Maz, owner of a 13 handicap, revealed during play that he didn't know how to mark his ball when others are putting. He kept score, though, because his partner, a 15 handicapper, didn't know how.

Patterson to Fight Johnson Tonight

Generals on the March

Sullivan, 17-3, at UCCC

The fourth ranked basketball team in Region XV — Sullivan Community College—will invade the Municipal Auditorium tonight to tangle with Mike Perry's Ulster Community Senators in a Mid-Hudson Conference feature. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Coached by Lee Roberts, son of the athletic director at Ellenville Central, the Generals possess a shiny 17-3 record and are seeking a berth in the Regional tournament. They also stand 6-0 in league play.

Sullivan has been beaten once by New York City Community, a one-point contest on the road and twice by Trenton Junior College.

In compiling its 6-0 league record, the visiting five has been extended only once, topping Ulster, 94-93, at home. In that contest, Rod Chando had a phenominal second half and the Senators came from far back to just miss upsetting the Generals.

All Over 6 Feet

Roberts expects to start 6-3 Ed Strong and 6-2 Dave Eilenberg, both averaging over 20 points a game. Also in the lineup will be 6-3 John Watson, 6-1 Jim Kiernan and 6-3 Jim Hughes.

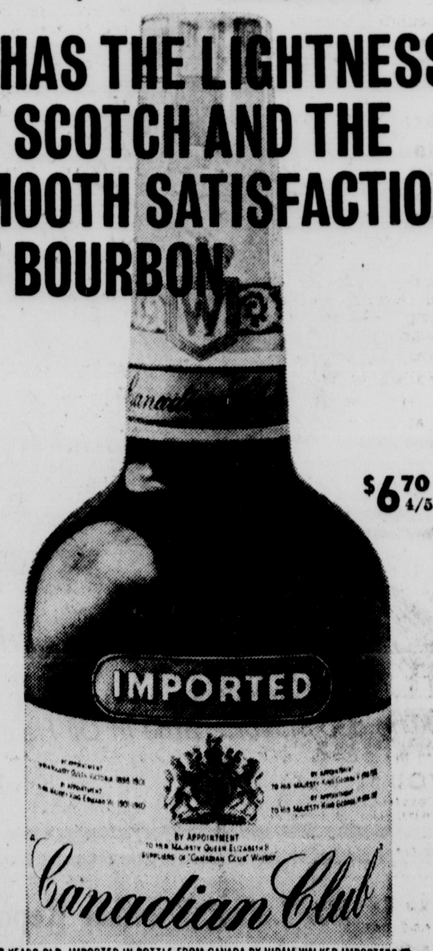

Ulster will counter with Jim Groff, Chando, Frank Roselli, Bill Boines and Bill Zilliox. Captain Brad Meyer, who has been in a scoring slump, will start the game on the bench.

With three league losses, the Senators are out of title contention. However, if they defeat Sullivan, then the Generals game with Orange Community College on Feb. 22 in Middletown will decide the championship.

After tonight's battle, the Senators have only a Feb. 18 date with the New Paltz Frosh at the Auditorium. The rest of the schedule will be on the road.

High School Cagers to Play Tonight at Roosevelt

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

The Dolans of Tillson—Bob and Jean—were part of a large entourage of area and IBM ski aficionados across the nation who made the pilgrimage recently to the Meccas of European skiing.

They went to see how the other half of the skiing world lives. What they saw pleased them. They had a ball for two weeks at such spectacular sites as Olympic-famous Innsbruck and Kitzbuhel, while others visited St. Anton and the original Davos in Switzerland.

Frank Auringer of the Trail Sweepers Club promises some spectacular movies of the group's exploits in St. Anton and Davos. The group that visited St. Anton's called it "the greatest."

The Dolans, like most Americans, had some preconceived notions changed about the European ski scene and picked up a few other observations that only the affluent American tourist is subjected to the world over.

• The Sun Deck Gimmick:

For example, the sun deck gimmick. All of the beautiful ski lodges, their Tyrolean architectural splendor perched high on hills that would defy the giant Condor, feature sun decks for the less athletic sun worshippers.

First you rent your sun deck chair for 10 shillings. Then the wind starts howling around your sitmarks and an omnipresent attendant bobs up laden with blankets. You rent a blanket—10 shillings. You settle down comfortably but the shilling (no pun) isn't over yet.

In due time the attendant again makes the rounds.

"Your feet must be a bit uncomfortable, madam," he suggests solicitously. "We have just the thing for that—these excellent foot rests—only 10 shillings."

"By this time," Jean recalls, "it dawned on me that the rental for the deck chair was just a cover charge!"

She recalls that drinking American coffee was a perilous adventure.

"There is no such thing as American style coffee as we know it. The brand they give you is atrocious and expensive.

"Espresso traditionally is the 'in' coffee item and is more expensive than beer. Eggs for breakfast? Unheard of. The typical ski lodge breakfast consists of hard rolls, tea or rotten style U. S. coffee, strawberry and assorted jams.

"Food is relatively cheap," said Jean, "but American cigarettes sell for 60 cents a pack in machines. Wine is plentiful, cheap and excellent."

• Magnificient Lodges

The lodges which command breathtaking panoramic views have everything—swimming pools, sauna baths, casinos and music with an incongruous Latin theme. They are mostly Spanish combos. One group, the Four Pesos, played everything from tangos to rock and roll.

One intriging performer, a sort of Tyrolean Tessie O'Shea, did a solo act insulting her customers in pure, rich German. Her style made the late Texas Guinan sound like a Sunday School girl.

Austria is the home of Knessel, the continent's most famous brand name in ski equipment.. There you also find the top rated Blizzardi skis. But Bob Dolan's U. S. style Head 360 American model skis highly intrigued the Austrians who clustered around him for close inspection.

Skiing is serious business with these people and the average ski lesson takes from 9:45 a. m. to 12 noon. The first few days are spent on fundamentals and rehearsing techniques in all six categories from novice to expert (wedlin). The skiers are then taken to the mountains via air lifts for actual experience, then ski back to the villages. All the Olympic sites are outside the city of Innsbruck, which has a population of more than 100,000.

• The Economy Package

The U. S. ski fans who went to Kitzbuhel, home of world famed Toni Sailor, were surprised to find they could ski for six days on every lift in the extensive area for only $10. Another $10 brought expert ski instruction plus thrilling trips to all the Alpine country on skis for six full days. The village was charming and hospitable. Innsbruck's Olympic slopes as well as less challenging terrain with sun decks were available at the end of a short exciting ride on electric train or commuter bus.

At Kitzbuhel, the Dolans saw the fabulous Jean Claude-Killy of France win the men's slalom race. He is the new star of the slalom world and is being compared with the great Toni Sailor.

The race was clocked by IBM machine.

"IBM Rechenzentrum Boeblingen," said the official program.

"Home again," sighed the Dolans.

Kingston High School's basketball team won't have to worry about lack of competition prior to its return meeting with Newburgh Free Academy Friday in the Hilly City.

Coach John Gilligan's cagers travel to Hyde Park tonight to face high scoring Roosevelt a non-league attraction:

In DUSO action this evening, Newbuurgh is at Liberty and the Goldbacks can take temporary posession of first place with a win over the sizzling Indians.

Arlington is at Lourdes in a DCSL game postponed from last week. The non-league slate has Catskill at Saugerties, Millbrook at Highland, Marlboro at Valley Central, Cardinal Farley at Rhinebeck and Burke at New Paltz.

Has 12-2 Record

Roosevelt, despite its 12-2 record, is destined to finish second to Beacon in the DCSL. The Presidents have lost to the Bulldogs and to Lourdes.

They toppled Kingston, 89-82, back in December, thanks to a 39-point explosion by Rich Rinaldi. Like the locals, Roosevelt depends on a running game and emphasizes the fast break.

The KHS quintet is now 10-3 for the year. With Leon Hanna taking charge of the backboards and hitting for 25 points, the Colonials won a squeaker, 65-60, at Middletown last Friday.

After tonight's tussle, Kingston has that crucial test Friday at Newburgh. Meanwhile, coach Mickey Burkoski's Goldies are at Liberty tonight and might have some trouble with the Indians.

Rampaging Indians

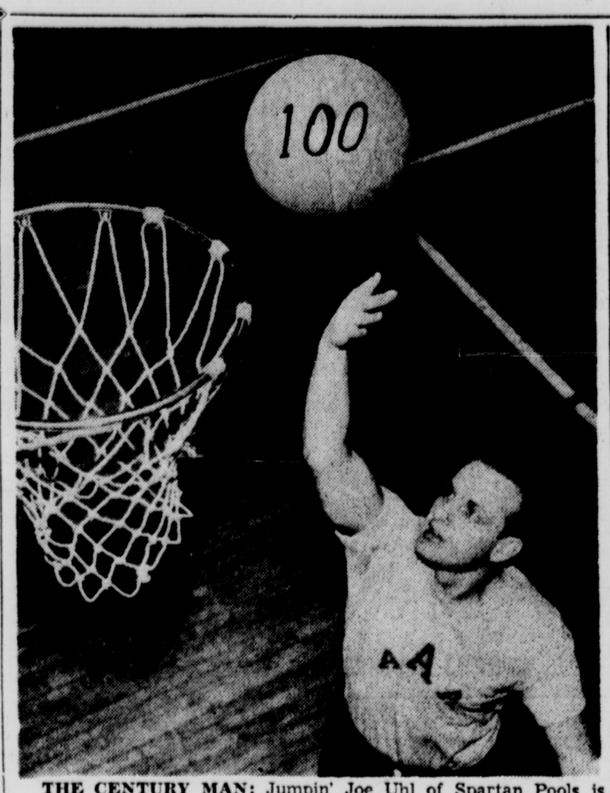

Since that 112-36 flogging by Kingston three weeks ago, the Indians have captured their last four. Included was a 75-64 upset over Ellenville, the first setback suffered by the Blue Devils.

The DCSL battle between Arlington and Lourdes won't decide a championship but the Warriors will attempt to solidify their hold on third place. Lourdes won the first meeting, 51-38.

The other non-league feature is at the Valley Central gym as Marlboro seeks its 15th straight victory and another big step towards an unbeaten season.

Valley Central is an Orange County power. The Dukes had to go two overtimes in nudging Highland Falls, 99-94, last Friday and it took a 53-point effort by Richie Faulk to turn the tide.

Close to home, Saugerties seeks a second straight win over Catskill. Coach Bud Smith's cagers tripped the Greene County club, 61-60, in the season pener. The Sawyers will also seek their second two-game winning streak of the year.

THE CENTURY MAN: Jumpin' Joe Uhl of Spartan Pools is the first player in YMCA League history to score 100 points in a 32-minute contest. His average per game is a sensational 57.1 points. (Staff Photo by Kruh)

Finland Takes Biathlon Relay

By ERIK WOLD

AUTRANS, France (AP) — Finland barely edged Norway today for the biathlon relay event of the Olympic Preview Nordic Ski Program.

Finland finished in two hours, 15 minutes and 26.00 seconds while Norway did 2:15:40.00, and Sweden 2:18:30.00.

Other leaders were: 4. Russia, 2:20:20.00; 5. Romania, 2:21:20.00; 6. East Germany, 2:23:29.00; 7. United States, 2:4:35.00; 8. Poland, 2:25:00.00; 9. Japan, 2:27:11.00; and 10. Britain, 2:27:33.00.

Ralph Walkey and Bill Spencer of Salt Lake City, John Ehrensbeck of Old Forge, N.Y., and Allen Small of Durango, Colo., made up the United States team. All are Army personnel who will go from here to the World Military Biathlon Championship in Lebanon later this week. The Americans were running sixth at the end of the first leg, tenth after the second leg, ninth after the third leg, and pulled up toseventh at the finish.

A no. 2 U.S. team finished in 16th and last place in 2:48:11.00. It was made up of Gay Bowerman, Eugene, Ore., 40:04.2; Mel Mathis, Durango, Colo., 43:14.0; ohn Isokangas, New York City, 42:50.8; and Pete Ripple Niagara Falls, N.Y., 42:02.1.

Thirty Six Teams With 300-Plus Members Play Regular Schedule at Local YMCA

By HUGH REYNOLDS

(Freeman Staff Writer)

So you're wondering where all the basketball players are nowadays. Just take a trip down to the YMCA and you'll find them in all sizes, shapes and ages.

At present, according to Dave Peterson, physical director, there are 36 teams in four leagues with a total membership of over 300.

Ages range from eight years-old in the Saturday Morning Midget league to above 40 in the Men's league. The the Midget league may be heralding things to come. The tiny tots, most of whom aren't too crazy about girls, anyway, have three females playing in their league. This might cause future problems in the Men's league where exchanges during tight games can be somewhat less than friendly.

Poughkeepsie Has 40

A check was made in Poughkeepsie at their YMCA and director Don McKiernan, not to be outdone by his Kingston counterpart, claimed to have 40 teams at his location.

McKiernan faces the same schedule problems and crowded conditions that Peterson does except for one thing. There is hope in the immediate future for McKiernan . . . a new YMCA starts construction in Poughkeepsie in July.

McKeirnan says the dimensions of the Poughkeepsie gym are about 70 x 42 with the new gym expected to be 84 x 50. The local 'Y' gym is about the same floor size but is actually quite a bit larger. Poughkeepsie's gym has a running track on top of it which makes the corners off limits.

Meanwhile back in Kingston, Joe Uhl has people shaking their heads in disbelief over his scoring antics in the YMCA Men's league. Cool Uhl is currently burning the cords at a 57.1 clip or 452 points in only eight games. He's been over 60 points his last four games topping it off with a 100-point effort Wednesday night. In those four games he's averaged over 74 points a game. Apparently it will take a broken ankle to stop him. That's what did it his sophomore year in high school against Poughkeepsie when he was burning up the DUSO League.

Bill Eagan is second in the men's league with a fine 26.3 scoring average. Uhl's team, Spartan Pools is averaging over 125 points a game.

The men's league which plays at the 'Y' on Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday nights has ten other teams besides Spartans. They include Jack's Barber Shop, Stone Ridge, Tony's Pizzeria, Royal Grill, Frank's Hunting Lodge, Ferroxcube, Demicco Motors, Spada's Sport Shop, Food Fair and Boyle's A. C.

The YMCA midget league is run on Saturday morning at the 'Y' for youth members aged 8-11 years and up. The six team circuit includes the Knicks, Rangers, Bullets, Magicians, Jets and Jaycees. After their games boys go swimming or work out on the trampoline and mats in the upper gym.

Two Church Leagues

The YMCA sponsors two church leagues in the area, one for boys 11-14 and the other for boys 14-18. The junior league (younger boys) plays at the YMCA on Saturday afternoons. Teams are: St. George Greek Orthodox, Clinton Avenue Methodist, Redeemer Lutheran, Immanuel Lutheran, Fair Street Reformed and Hurley Reformed. St. George leads this league with a perfect 8-0 slate.

The largest league of them all is the 13-team senior church league which serves more than 150 boys 14-18. This league plays at the MJM Junior High school on Monday and Tuesday nights. Teams are Jewish Community Center, First Baptist, Hurley Reformed, Trinity Lutheran, Trinity Methodist, Fair Street Reformed, St. James Methodist, Clinton Ave. Methodist, Grace Community, St. Remy Reformed, Port Ewen Reformed, Redeemer Lutheran and Reformed Church of the Comforter. The top team in this league is the powerful Jewish Community Center quintent which is currently 8-0.

Volunteer leadership, the backbone of the YMCA is what makes these leagues possible. Members of the boy's Leaders Club of the 'Y' serve as coaches of the midget league teams. All of the 19 church league teams are coached by adult members of the church. The men's league teams are run by a playing coach in most instances.

Peterson carries the administrative responsibility of the leagues. This involves scheduling, newspaper publicity, filling out the scorebooks in advance and having The Freeman sheets typed up, lining up referees and scorekeepers and various other things that come up from time to time, such as cancellations. Peterson also serves as head scorekeeper for the Men's League and referees for the Midget League.

Concerning the league, he said: "Although I'm not blessed with a lot of athletic ability, I've always been a big sports fan and having my own leagues to run is really a tremendous thing. Watching the games, talking to players and coaches, seeing the boys improve, and keeping the statistics are all a most enjoyable part of my job."

Now if they'd just build that new YMCA in Kingston.

St. George's Stay Unbeaten in SC

St. George's Greek continued unbeaten (9-0) with a 32-13 win over Clinton Avenue Methodist in the YMCA Junior Church league.

Fair Street romped over Redeemer Lutheran, 32-16, and Hurley topped Immanuel Lutheran, 35-11.

The results:

St. George's (32)— G. Antinous 7, J. Corsones 16, D. Larios 1, G. Geanuleas 7, L. Geanuleas, B. Kitsos, D. Demosthenous, C. Yankoglu 1, G. Kaloullis.

Clinton Avenue (13)—H. Pine 4, B. Pine, B. Kantor, S. Bruno 6, G. Ennis 1, G. Lewis, P. Studwell 1, G. Stoutenberg 1, V. Osborne.

Redeemer Lutheran (16) — B. Stalter 10, M. Anderson, K. Holmquist, S. Anderson 1, C. Schline, Ed Fox, J. Berryman, Ed Phillips 4, A. Lenzi, D. Decker 1, M. Snyder, J. Berryman.

Find 2 Guilty In County Court, Third Acquitted

Two of three defendants charged with possession of stolen property were found guilty as charged by a jury in County Court Monday afternoon. The third, Frank Lee Peterson, was acquitted.

All three had been indicted by the Grand Jury for possession of business machines allegedly stolen some time before from the Ellenville Handle Works.

Under Investigation

The theft had been reported some time previously to State Police and was under investigation when last August Ellenville police spotted the trio and notified State Police. A search of the car disclosed the machines and Alphonso Heyward, James Parker Regan and Peterson were arrested and later indicted.

Heyward was represented by Alex Nirenberg; Frank Lee Peterson by Philip Slutsky and James Parker Regan by James Murray. Assistant District Attorney James H. Fisher appeared for the prosecution.

Heyward had three prior convictions, one under which he received a 7½ to 10 year sentence. As a fourth offender he could serve from 20 years to life for the present conviction.

The jury deliberated less than two hours before bringing in the guilty verdict against two of the indicted men.

Scheduled for trial today is an indictment charging Marcharlene Harris, also known as Marsha Harris, with possession of marijuana in violation of the State Public Health Law. Formerly of Kingston and Woodstock, the defendant now resides in New York City. She was formerly associated with the CORE movement in Kingston while a resident here. It is anticipated a jury will be selected today to try the case. Gerald Wapner of Woodstock appears as attorney of record for defendant and Assistant District Attorney Francis Vogt represents the prosecution.

Pine Grove Fire

Fire which broke out behind a fire place at the Richard Hauser home on Band Camp Road, Pine Grove, last evening about 7:15 called firemen from Centerville and Cedar Grove to the scene. Chief Frank Ward said the fire was a difficult one to reach but damage was slight. Members of the family smelled smoke and summoned firemen. Timbers back of the fireplace had caught on fire and when an opening was made under the floor flames leaped up. They were quickly extinguished but had the fire not been discovered early it might have been a serious one, the chief said.

Driver Is Injured In Route 28 Crash

At 6:45 a. m. today a car operated east on Route 28 near Glenford went into a skid and struck guard rails. The driver Douglas L. Wooton, 24, of Box 115-A, Mountain Road, Ashokan, was taken to Kingston Hospital by West Hurley Fire Company First Aid and Rescue Squad suffering from a fractured left ankle and multiple contusions.

The car was being operated east on Route 28, about 2½ miles west of the Route 375 intersection, when it skidded on a curve. The operator lost control and the car crossed the west lane and struck a guard rail. The operator was ejected. He was riding alone at the time.

these military leaders of following the bourgeois reactionary line: Hsu Kuang-ta, commander of armored car units; Wang Shang-jung, commander of the Strategic Department of the Defense Ministry; Liu Chih-chien, deputy director of the General Political Department of the People's Liberation Army; and vice chairmen of the National Defense Industry Committee of the Military Commission Chao Erh-lu, Teng Han-tao and Yuan Cheng-jung.

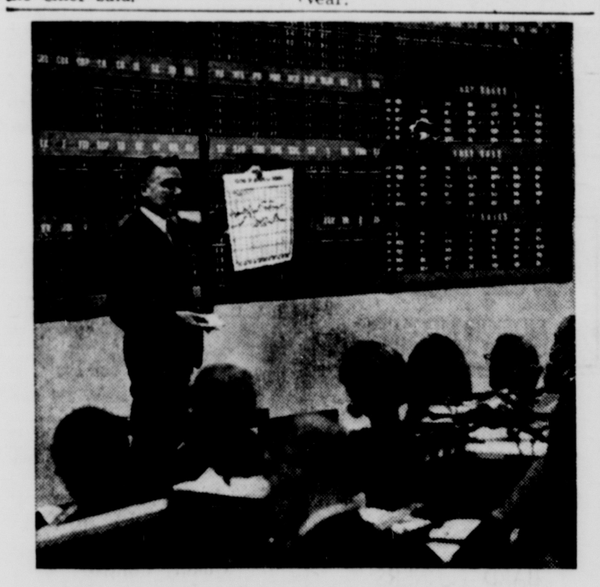

Bloody fighting between Maoists and pro-Liu forces was reported in widely separated areas of the mainland. Moscow radio said Monday. A Japanese-language broadcast said the fighting broke out in Hupeh and Hunan provinces in central China, Kwangtung in the southeast, Heilungkiang and in the hinterlands of Tibet and Inner Mongolia.

It claimed that Maoist Red Guards have arrested Saifudin, secretary of the Sinkiang Regional Committee, and Chang Kuo-hua, conqueror and military commander of Tibet.

If true this means that two of the most powerful figures in China's Far West have ranged themselves against Mao. Chang led Chinese armies into Tibet in 1951, became the first secretary of the party committee and a deputy for Tibet.

Saifudin is an Uighur, born in Sinkiang, who wielded great influence among that Turkic tribe. He was vice commander of the Sinkiang military district whose chief was Wang En-mao, also reported an anti-Maoist.

Moscow radio quoted a former Uighur official of the Chinese Communist party as saying 100 to 150 trucks loaded with Mao supporters were sent into Sinkiang every day during the past year.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued to rise on balance early today in fairly active trading despite softness in motors and some other sections of the list.

The auto stocks were affected by the skid in new car sales and a forecast that the figures will continue to lag 1966 at least until April.

Gen. Motors, Chrysler and American Motors took fractional losses. Ford, which plans expansion of one of its plants, was unchanged.

Most changes were fractional throughout the list but a few went to a point or so.

Some of the lower-priced issues continued to meet speculative demand, among them American Photocopy, Lionel and California Financial, both of which were fractionally higher in active trading.

Criticizes Vassar Plan to Relocate

The plan to merge Vassar College with Yale University in New Haven was severely criticized Monday by Dr. Henry Noble MacCracken, president emeritus of Vassar, who labeled it "fantastic, dangerous and irresponsible."

Dr. MacCracken called it "the most outstanding instance of educational rapacity even in these days of highway robbery."

Takes Dim View

Dr. MacCracken also took a dim view of a report made to Patterns for Progress, an area planning unit, on a Mid-Hudson Valley University at the Vassar College site. Referring to the study, Dr. McCracken said, "I have a profound distrust of such experts.

MacCracken appealed to the citizens and students of Dutchess County to "take the matter seriously."

"It is not simply that an institution with a net worh of $100 million is about to be removed from your neighborhood, he said, but rather that the rest of the country will wonder what on earh the citizens of the Hudson Valley can be doing which is more important than preserving this century-old institition."

The president of the State University, Dr. Samuel B. Gould, took a cautious attitude when queried about the possibilities of a university center at Vassar.

He said that the University would have to see whether Vassar were actually moving and if that were the case, the plan for a valley university would be given careful consideration.

Has Commitments

However, Dr. Gould emphasized that the State University has "enormous commitments" already throughout the state and that the university's resources are limited.

Over the weekend members of the New Paltz Village Board and Chamber of Commerce sent telegrams to area state legislators and university officials calling for the establishment of a valley university at New Paltz. They said they felt that New Paltz was the only logical, practical location for the university.

Record Earth Shocks Southwest of Iceland

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP) — Two fairly strong earthquakes, whose shocks set seismographic needles jiggling around the globe, were recorded during the night at the Uppsala Seismological Institution.

Dr. Markus Baath, director of the institution, said the first quake was recorded at 2320 GMT — 6:20 p.m. EST Monday — and registered 6.7 on the Richter scale. He said the quake was apparently located in the north Atlantic southwest of Iceland.

The same shock was reported Monday night by Dr. Charles Richter, seismologist at the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena. He also said the quake was located in the Atlantic Ocean .

The second quake, with a magnitude of 6.6 on the Richter scale, was registered at Uppsala at 0147GMT. Baath estimated it occurred about 5,340 miles away but could not say where.

coordinated planning in all health, welfare and character building services, both valuntary and tax-supported.

Loeks, a director of the Twin Cities Metropolitan Planning Commisison, was elected president of the PFP group last June. He is president of the American Institute of Planners and past chairman of the Inter-Profesional Commission of Environment Design. He also is chairman of the Coordinating Committee, Twin Cities Joint Program for Land Use and Transportation Planning.

Loeks, 43, received a BA in landscape architecture and urban planning from Michigan State University in 1947, and a MA in city and regional planning from M.I.T. in 1950.

Loeks served as assistant planner City Planning Board of St. Paul from 1950 until 1952, when he was named planning director.

Developer UR

During his tenure with the City Planning Board of St. Paul, Loeks was active in the initiation and development of St. Paul's extensive urban renewal program as well as many other aspects of community improvement. These include the current program to rebuild the central business district the freeway program and the development of a comprehensive plan for the city.

Loeks present association with metropolitan planning for the Twin City stems from a conviction developed while working for St. Paul that planning at a regional scale is fundamental to successful planning in the local level.

From 1963 to 1965 he chaired the Urban Action Committee of the Upper Midwest Council during its economic study of the region comprised of the Ninth Federal Reserve District.

Studied on Grant

In 1958 Loeks studied 19 large metropolitan areas in the United States on a Ford Foundation study grant. In 1960, 1962 and 1965 a similar grant took him to 21 countries and 45 major cities on an around-the-world study of urban problems. He recently returned from Japan where he headed the American delegation to the International Federation for Housing and Town Planning.

He has made presentations on urban affairs before a wide variety of public and private organizations at the national, state and local levels throughout the country. The scope of this activity has ranged from testimony before Congressional committees to major addresses to national civic and governmental groups such as the National Municipal League, American Institute of Planners, American Society of Planning Officials, to presentations before local civic and governmental organizations interested in obtaining an outside viewpoint on their problems and programs.

Loeks, earlier this year, agreed to serve as a special advisor to Robert C. Weaver, U. S. Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, on implementing the 1966 Demonstration Cities and Metropolitan Development Act.

Tickets are available for the Feb. 28 dinner from Chest officers in the Gov. Clinton Hotel. It is open to all who contributed.

Rosendale Dems Caucus Feb. 15

The chairman of the Rosendale Democratic Committee announces that on Wednesday, Feb. 15 at 8 p. m. there will be a Democratic Caucus for the nomination of candidates for the offices of mayor and one trustee for the Village of Rosendale. The caucus will be held at the Rosendale Firehouse.

Joseph Reid, the chairman, urges all to attend this important selection of those who will represent the Democratic Party in the coming village election.

"Since there has been evidence that a number of people, not only in the village of Rosendale but all over the county, through dissatisfaction with the present control of the county, have changed their enrollment to the Democratic Party," Reid asserted.

All enrolled Democrats and the future enrolled Democrats have been invited to the caucus.

"It is time," Reid continued, "for the people to become active in our local government and not let a few make the decisions for all of us. In the past, it seems that the machine even dictated who would run in an election as local as the villages."

GOP Reaction

tial increases given out in 1965 and 1966.

Durvea, questioned during a radio interview, said, he believed his plan would be accepted "if we indicate sources of revenue to finance it."

He said he thought Rockefeller's budget packed enough money to finance the extra payment because, he said, the potential revenue from various taxes had been underestimated. In addition, he said, other proposed appropriations might be trimmed—for instance, the anti-drug addiction program—one of the governor's pet projects.

Durvea said that, while his proposals would cost about $60 million over the next full year, only about $30 million would have to be supplied in the new budget—because the state's fiscal year does not coincide with the school year.

$46 Million Cost

His primary proposal was to increase the current ceiling on state-shared costs from $660 to $690 per pupil per year. This would cost more than $46 million for a full year, Durvea said.

He also proposed a continuation of the temporary provision allowing school districts to compute their state aid entitlement on the basis of their actual operating costs, rather than the previous year's figures. School districts were permitted to use figures up to 7 per cent higher last year. Durvea suggested that that restriction be raised to 10 per cent.

Those two provisions would cost more than $10.5 million during a full year.

Bell to Address State U GOP On February 23

H. Clark Bell, Constitutional Convention Delegate from the 38th District of Dutchess and Ulster Counties, will address the Young Republican Club of the State University College at New Paltz Thursday, Feb. 23 at 8:30 p. m.

The Young GOP Club of the New Paltz College will meet in the Activities Room on the second floor of the College Union Building to hear Delegate Bell explain the organization, purpose and importance of the Constitutional Convention.

Club President Eric Byne, in announcing Bell's address, said that the Constitutional Convention will be of extreme importance to young people as the future course of education in New York State, to a large extent, will be determined by the policies adopted at the Constitutional Convention.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

Young Investor Needs Well-Assured Growth

"Q—I am 24 years old and single, with no dependents. I have money to invest and would like your suggestion. At present I am interested in Avon Products, Bristol-Meyers, American Hospital Supply and Safeway Stores. Do these stocks offer a potential for continued growth? Are they right for my particular circumstances? Should I invest in just one issue or put money into several?" T. L.

A—I congratulate you on your good judgment. All your selections are stocks of good quality with a potential for continued growth. In your circumstances, you should hold only stocks with a record of strongly rising earnings, which can be reasonably projected into the future.

The first three issues you mentioned fall into this category. Safeway is a sound issue, but like other good food chains its growth may slow down because of severe competition and rising costs. I advise replacing this with Consolidated Foods. Neve. keep all your money in a single stock where an unfavorable development could seriously deplete your capital. You should build up to around ten issues and spread the risk which all stocks carry.

(Q)—"We bought Hallicrafters, which merged with Northrop. We received one share of Northrop cumulative preferred stock for each 5.6 shares of Hallicrafters. We previously held only common stocks and don't know what cumulative means. Would you explain and should we hold or sell? J. P.

(A)"Cumulative" simply means that any dividends not paid when due must be added to future payments before anything is received by the common stockholders. Your new stock is exchangeable for Northrop common, beginning in 1970, at a ratio determined by the average closing price of the common for ten days prior to conversion. The minimum conversion price is $34 and the maximum $45 for a period of five years from issuance date. Your preferred stock currently yields 4½ per cent, and the conversion privilege has potential value. I advise you to hold your new shares.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Harold Finkle - Phil Teffel

"I'm a stock broker. Here's one thing I find that smart investors have in common."

"They start out with a specific goal in mind, usually one of these three: growth, income or safety."

"That's the idea, of course—to improve yourself financially. But the smart people in the market try to invest to help meet certain objectives they've set for themselves and their families, after first providing for living expenses and the usual emergencies."

But everybody must want growth?

"Of course. The country is growing and they want to grow with it. When we talk about growth as a goal, we mean growth in the value of the stock over a period of time. The investor is willing to leave his money in a stock, to ride over the normal ups and downs of the market, with the idea that his money will grow to help him in later years."

How can an investor pick a growth stock?

"If you take the stocks on the New York Stock Exchange as a whole, the record shows that their value has grown with the country over a period of years. Listed stocks are generally the biggest companies, with proven records. But there's no guarantee, of course, that any one stock will grow in any given period. The thing to do is ask your broker for facts and advice, then use your good common sense in estimating a company's prospects."

What if I needed more income to help me over some hurdles now?

"Then your primary goal would be to get a good dividend return, though you would still hope that the value of your stock would grow. Preferred stocks or bonds might be other ways to fill your need for a second income."

Where does safety fit in as a goal?

"There's some risk in any investment, whether securities or anything else. Your circumstances and your temperament may suggest a conservative approach. Then you'd look into the relative safety of principal with good yield that high-grade preferred stocks or bonds might offer."

If a goal is all that important, would you say that's the first thing an investor and broker should talk about?

"The very first. And don't feel the slightest bit shy about asking his opinion, if you're not completely sure what your goal should be. He's there to help, and if you and he have a good idea of what you want your investment to do—well, how could you make a better start?"

New Constitution Should Put Curb On Taxing Power

NEW YORK (AP) — The Temporary State Commission on the Constitutional Convention says the new constitution must be specific in restricting the Legislature's taxing power if local governments "are to be granted areas of exclusive discretion in meeting their financial problems."

In a 168-page report released Monday, the commission warned that an oversimplified constitution could eliminate historic safeguards that shield the people against an abuse of taxing power.

In weighing local finances, the commission said, the convention delegates should balance cafefully the needs of the state and local governments and individual citizens to insure that the taxpayers do not get hurt.

The commission noted that "a major announced goal of a number of delegates is to simplify and shorten the present constitution."

The commission included in its various recommendations for taxation changes one that would raise the limit on real estate taxes collected by the cities. There were no specific proposals for new ceilings.

The report said that local property taxes now bring in about $3.3 billion a year in New York State. It said that four cities — New York, Rochester, Syracuse and Yonkers — are now using 99 per cent of their real estate taxing power. It said six others including Albany and Buffalo, are using more than 90 per cent.

Bicycle sales in America totaled nearly six million in 1965.

Seeds Belie Sizes

Tree seed sizes vary, but not always by size of tree. The sugar pine produces seeds as large as kernels of corn, while seeds of the giant Douglas fir are so tiny that 40,000 of them weigh only a pound.

Signs Suggest Uncrowded Areas In Kingston Area

V. James Andretta Jr., chairman of the Business Development Committee of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, today announced that the first of 25 outdoor advertising posters developed by his committee, in cooperation with Modjeska Sign Studios, Inc., has been put up in the heart of Kingston.

Andretta said that the poster is designed to suggest the uncrowded residential and business/industrial conditions which exist in the Kingston Area. Outdoor advertising was chosen as the initial medium for the Chamber's development program as a quick, colorful and economical means of estolling Ulster County's virtues to the many travelers in the area who may become industrial or residential prospects. Andretta expressed the belief that, through this medium, prospects who might never otherwise be solicited, will be exposed to the premise that the Kingston Area business community is seeking to addd to its pool of business, industrial and human resources.

Initially, the poster will appear on major traffic arteries in the Kingston area, in 15 locations. President George Svirsky expressed the Chamber's great appreciation to Modjeska Sign Studios, Inc., and to Paul A. Modjeska for the generous contribution of their advertising space and the labor required to erect the signs. Svirsky's reemphasized Andretta's statement that the outdor advertising program is the first step in an overall program by the Business Development Committee of the Chamber to generate a broad interest in bringing new growth to the Kingston area.

Dem Losers Are Back on Payroll

WASHINGTON (AP) — A good many Democratic congressmen beaten in the Republican election sweep last November are back on the federal payroll.

Half have landed federal positions, are looking for them, or have been named to high positions in their states.

Former Rep. David S. King of Utah was appointed by President Johnson as U.S. ambassador to the Malagasy Republic off the southeast coast of Africa.

17 of 52 Employed

Fifty-two Democratic congressmen were defeated in last year's primaries and general elections. So far 17 have federal appointments and jobs, at least 5 are looking and 4 are in line for positions in states and the Democratic party.

The other 26 defeated Democrats returned to law practices and other private positions back home, retired or are still in Washington but plan to return some soon.

Twenty-seven of the Democrats who rode into Congress on the Johnson tide in 1964 went right back out on the Republican resurgence last fall. But they generally have fared well.

Nine have federal jobs, four more are looking and three have state positions or are leading contenders for them.

Patronage? A Democratic congressional staff member says it's no such thing.

"We help them make contact when we can," he said, "but they have to rely on their own merit when they go down for the job.

Advantages Noted

"We're certainly not in a position to say 'yes,' 'no' or 'maybe' on whether they're hired."

But he added that congressional experience with federal programs often gives ex-officeholders an advantage over other applicants for the same jobs.

There's little question the November defeats put some experienced men on the job market.

Former Rep. Clair Callan of Nebraska, a House Agriculture Committee member during his one term, has become deputy administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration.

President Johnson named Thomas G. McGrath Jr. of New Jersey as general counsel of the Department of Housing and Urban Development. Kenneth W. Dyal, a former California postmaster, now is regional post office director in San Francisco.

Former Rep. Lindley Beckworth of Texas, a 24-year House veteran, was appointed by Johnson to a U.S. Customs Court judgeship in New York City.

Variety of Topics Heard at Esopus Town Board Meet

Progress reports on a number of Town projects and routine business were the order of the day at the February meeting of the Esopus Town Board held last week at the Town Hall, Port Ewen.

An exchange of letters between the State Health Department and Brinnier and Larios, Kingston engineers, indicated the iminent release by the state of the town's sewage study. The $32,000 study, made by Brinnier and Larios and paid for by the State Health Department, covers an in-depth study of the sewage requirements of the township and the design of a sewage system to meet these requirements.

Caused Revisions

Subsequent to the original submission to the state of the report, a further analysis of the availability of federal funds caused major revisions in the plans for a proposed sewage system for the Port Ewen area. It is understood the revisions will increase the amount of federal funds for which the project would be eligible and at the same time reducing the amount of the town's monetary contribution. It is also understood the revisions include the hamlet of Connelly in the first stage of construction, should a sewage construction project be undertaken.

When the study is released by the State Health Department, a series of public information meetings will be scheduled by the Town Board to acquaint the residents of the areas affected by the study with the details. A referendum will in all probability then be scheduled to determine the wishes of the citizens residing in the proposed sewer district.

A report was made on the progress being hade to preserve Perrine's Bridge at Rifton. Special recognition was given to Highway Superintendent Paul Mercier and a group of his highway crew who, together with a group of men from the Town of Rosendale Highway Department, installed temporary braces on the bridge February 4. Letters were received from residents of Ellenville and Geneva, favoring the preservation efforts.

It was reported the County Highway Department plans to install a new bridge over Black Creek on Floyd Eckert Road, West Park, during the late spring. Plans for the bridge were recently reviewed by Superintendent Mercier, Supervisor Roger Mabie and Justice of the Peace Allan Dargie with Acting County Highway Superintendent George Fichtner. Supervisor Mabie also reported the Town Board plans to meet with District Engineer M. N. Sinacori of the State DPW in Poughkeepsie, February 23, on the proposed new alignment of Route 9W through Port Ewen and the new bridge across Rondout Creek.

Applied for Grant

The Board voted to make application with the State Division for Youth for renewal of its annual recreation project. The project carries with it a State grant of $1,000, part of which is used to help defray the cost of the program of organized recreation carried out during the summer months at Ross Park, Port Ewen.

Supervisor Mabie was authorized to invest $35,000 of highway funds not immediately required in interest bearing certificates of deposit.

The Board reiterated its intention to enforce compliance of the town's auto junkyard ordinance impartially against all violators of the ordinance. Justice Dargie reviewed the progress that had been made so far in getting auto "junkers" removed from the township and stated that steps were currently being taken against several violators.

DeVall H. Dunbar, building inspector, reported the issuance of four building permits during the month with a total valuation of the work undertaken of $12,500. The permits covered the construction of one store, one greenhouse, a factory building alteration, and a house addition. The Board of Commissioners of the Port Ewen Water District reported an average daily water consumption by residents of the district during January of 190,645 gallons.

Jack Reynolds, chairman of the Board of Assessors, reported that 33 town residents so far had made application under the "over 65" tax relief measure. Of these 33 applicants, seven applications had to be rejected since all of the necessary requirements were not met. The Esopus assessors are presently in the midst of their annual tour of the township to meet with residents who have questions pertaining to their assessments or require assistance in filling out their "over 65" applications. On Saturday morning, Feb. 25, they will be at the Town Hall, Port Ewen.

Harry Mains, town fire marshal, submitted his review of activities for the preceeding year. It was noted he had conducted 10 school fire drills, had made inspections of 20 business establishments, had inspected 10 homes, had made 25 fire investigations, had made 10 inspections of nursing homes, and had carried out five speaking dates before groups on the importance of fire prevention.

The Board decided to hold a special meeting on March 22 to make required changes in the town's five election districts. Due to growth that has taken place in the township, it will be necessary to add at least one new voting district. At present, both District 2, Port Ewen, and District 3, Esopus, exceed in size the number of voters recommended for a normal voting district.
